Marcucci Stays With A's; Martin Sent To Portland

Catcher Milt Martin has been returned to Portland Beavers of the Pacific Coast League and Lillo Marcucci will remain with the Victoria Athletics, general manager Reg Patterson of the Athletics announced today.

This announcement spikes the report that Marcucci, the A's leading hitter and generally conceded to be the club's most valuable player, would be sold to the Beavers as a replacement for injured receiver Joe Rossi.

The Beavers sought to buy Marcucci from the Athletics when Rossi suffered a broken hand Sunday, leaving the Coast League club with only one catcher. The A's have a working agreement with the Beavers, under which some players are subject to recall within 24 hours. Marcucci, however, is the property of the Athletics and does not fall into this category.

Marcucci sat in on today's long-distance telephone conversation between Patterson, playing manager Dick Barrett, and general manager Bill Mulligan of the Beavers.

He reportedly said he was not too disappointed at missing a chance to play with the Beavers and expressed a willingness to give his "all" for the A's for the balance of the season. He feels his chance will come next year if he has a good season with the A's.

Loss of Martin leaves the A's with only one catcher. "A replacement will have to be found immediately," Patterson said. With Billy Dunn still out of the line-up due to an ankle injury, Marcucci's third-base position will be taken over by outfielder Gene Thompson tonight at Spokane. Jim Robinson will report to the A's tomorrow night from the Vancouver Capilanos. He is a third baseman. (See story on page 8.)

Stampede Queen Must Be Flagpole Sitter

MEDICINE HAT, Alta. (CP)—Medicine Hat is looking for a new type of queen for its 1951 stampede. She must have looks and a talent for flagpole sitting. Her duties will be to sit atop a 60-foot flagpole in front of the City Hall for two weeks before the stampede. The show is scheduled for July 5-7.

$1,800 Jewelry Theft Solved; Rings On Lawn

The four diamond rings valued at $1,800 which R.C.M.P. Sgt. G. D. Mead believed were pilfered from his home at 1527 Clive Drive, Saturday night, turned up today on the lawn of the Mead residence.

Chief of Police Hugh Reston, who had maintained the rings had been misplaced, and Mounty Sgt. Mead, who felt a "cat burglar" had made off with them, both clung to their original contentions today.

The rings, owned by Mrs. Mead, were not insured. According to police accounts, Mrs. Mead had left them in the kitchen Saturday evening while she and her husband were entertaining relatives and other guests at dinner.

Mrs. Mead said she first noticed the rings were missing when she returned to the kitchen after dinner.

The Meads still felt today the rings could have been pilfered and then dropped on the lawn by a thief who was making a hasty exit.

Mrs. Mead had left the rings together on the kitchen table. One was valued at $1,000, another at $500, a third at $200 and the fourth at $100, according to police reports.

65,000 GARMENT WORKERS GO ON STRIKE IN STATES

NEW YORK (AP)—Some 65,000 garment workers today began the first major work stoppage in the industry in 25 years.

Israel Feinberg, manager of the cloak joint board of the International Garment Workers' Union (A.F.L.) said the stoppage—resulting from a contract dispute—was 100 per cent effective.

The stoppage was directed against 2,000 manufacturers, jobbers and contractors who manufacture and handle women's and children's coats and suits.

About 45,000 of those called out by the I.L.G.W.U. work in New York city's garment centre. Most of the others are affected in upstate New York cities; New Jersey and Connecticut.

300 Contraband Watches Seized From Diplomat

MONTREAL (P)—Customs and J.C.M.P. officials today seized 300 Swiss watches, valued at $30,000, from the baggage of a Hungarian ex-consular official.

No arrests have been made. The former consular official was not named.

Authoritative sources said the baggage was sent to Montreal from Quebec, following the arrival of the liner Scythia, when customs men there became suspicious.

Search through a trunk containing feathers, cotton and an old radio, turned up the watches. Some were inside tubes of the radio.

The seizure was made in Central Station in mid-town Montreal.

Customs officials called the R.C.M.P. who questioned the man but did not detain him. They took several watches to check their retail value.

The trunk arrived in Quebec last week-end aboard the liner Scythia. It was placed aboard at Le Havre, France.

The trunk was to have been cleared at the customs office in

Urges U.S. Get Air Base Ring Around Russia

WASHINGTON (UP)—Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer urged today the United States establish a ring of air bases around the Russian "heartland" so it can destroy the Soviets if war comes.

This country, he said, must avoid a land struggle with Russia because "we would lose" by putting man against man.

He also told the Senate MacArthur investigating committee that "the time is coming" when the United States will have to "draw a line" and tell Russia "No more, this is it."

And he said this nation must have the military strength—"predominantly air"—to carry out such plans.

Iran To Keep Oil Flowing, Premier Says

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Premier Mohammed Mossadegh has assured President Truman Iran's plans to nationalize her oil industry will not jeopardize the world's oil supply, nor imperial international harmony.

The wrinkled little statesman who has been sequestered in two rooms of his country's parliament building sent these assurances in a lengthy letter transmitted to Washington Monday through the United States Embassy.

DELEGATION CALLS

The contents of Mossadegh's letter were disclosed as top officials of Britain's Anglo-Iranian Oil Company planned courtesy calls on government heads here prior to the opening of talks on the nationalization of Iran's oil industry operated by the company.

Mossadegh's letter was in reply to President Truman's recent appeal to Iran and Britain for moderation and reasonable negotiations on the explosive oil issue.

With the rest of the oil company's delegation—including two other directors—due today, negotiations on the take-over may start tomorrow.

Iran's flag floated symbolically over the company's giant refinery near Abadan—the world's largest—after a peaceful ceremony Monday at which Iranian directors named to operate the nationalized company were installed in a refinery office allotted them by the British management.

The premier told Truman "there will be no trespass against international law in the taking over from the Anglo-Iranian oil company." He said Iran would take the utmost care to continue and to increase the present level of oil production.

The inspection trip, sponsored by the Western Canada Petroleum Association, will start with a two-day tour of Calgary.

KING ADVISED TO TAKE LENGTHY CONVALESCENCE

LONDON (Reuters)—A medical bulletin from Buckingham Palace tonight said the King has been advised to take a prolonged convalescence.

The bulletin said the King is recovering from a lung inflammation.

The brief announcement from Buckingham Palace, where the King has been confined for several weeks, said:

"The King continues to make good progress. The temperature has been normal for the past week and the inflammation in the lung has subsided."

There has been speculation in some sections of the British press that bad health might force the King to retire from the Throne, turning it over to Princess Elizabeth. There is no official indication that this is true.

PRICE ROLLBACK ON U.S. BEEF STANDS

Wilson Says Country In 'Terrible Mess' If Shortage Of Cattle Deliveries Not Made Up

WASHINGTON (UP)—Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson said today the beef price rollbacks will stand, but that the country will be in a "terrible mess" if the beef strike does not end soon.

U.S. May Put Ceiling Price On Newsprint

WASHINGTON (P)—Price Director Michael V. DiSalle said today the United States Government may decide to place a ceiling on the amount newspaper publishers can pay for newsprint.

He said there will be a check to determine whether the action is legal. He said there is "some question" about this because newspaper publishers under the law are exempt from price control.

The action, if taken, would be designed to check plans of at least four big Canadian newsprint producers to raise prices $10 a ton July 1. That would raise newsprint prices in New York to $116 a ton.

The U.S. Government has no control over Canadian prices. Mobilization director Charles E. Wilson disclosed today, however, that he has personally asked Canadian officials to prevent, if possible, the scheduled price increase.

PLANS PARLEY

Wilson told a press conference that he has consulted with Production Minister Howe of Canada and intends to discuss the matter further with him, "probably in Canada."

DiSalle arranged to talk over with industry officials today the scheduled $10 increase in the price of Canadian newsprint.

DiSalle planned successive conferences with seven American newsprint manufacturers in the morning, and 24 newspaper publishers in the afternoon.

(The New York Times reported that Defence Department officials had threatened to cut the volume of rearmament orders Canada is receiving from the United States should Canadian newsprint mills put the price increase into effect.)

Commons Agree

OTTAWA (CP)—In a rare display of unanimity, government and opposition agreed in the Commons today to set up a select committee to attempt to streamline House procedure and shorten sessions.

Wilson told a news conference that the rollbacks of 4½ per cent each, on live cattle prices scheduled to go into effect Aug. 1 and Oct. 1, "are firm."

The rollbacks, aimed at reducing beef prices to consumers by eight to 10 cents a pound by Oct. 1, are opposed by meat interests and cattlemen. Marketing and slaughtering of beef cattle have dropped drastically.

Asked whether meat rationing might become necessary if cattle supplies continue to dwindle, Wilson shook his head in an emphatic no.

"Rationing should not be necessary," he said. "We have a tremendous cattle population and prices are good. We ought to be able to keep 150,000,000 Americans supplied with meat without rationing."

Wilson said he sees no reason for farmers to hold cattle off the market at present prices or even at the prices that will prevail after the next two rollbacks.

"I don't feel good about it," he said, referring to the present shortage of cattle in the nation's major stockyards.

OTTAWA (CP)—M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, said today the press of Canada is "becoming less free all the time, because many of the weekly rural newspapers are being bought up by powerful interests in this country."

South Korea Assured No Peace Move On By U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—South Korea's Ambassador to the United States, You Chan Yang, said today the State Department has assured him "there is no such thing as a cease-fire or peace feeler" being considered to end the Korean fighting.

Yang said he received these assurances from Assistant State Secretary Dean Rusk when he inquired Saturday about Gen. George C. Marshall's sudden trip to Korea and Japan.

"I was told his visit involved purely military tactics," Yang told a reporter.

Aircraft Fly 750 Sorties

TOKYO (AP)—Three long columns of Communists fled through East Korea's mountains today to escape being trapped by Allied tanks rumbling through their fallen "iron triangle."

Stout new defense lines protected the Reds' retreat from the east-central front.

United Nations troops mopped up Reds in hills around captured Chorwon and Kumhwa. The towns formed the southern anchors of the Pyonggang valley iron triangle build-up area. Chinese headed for the hills on each side of the valley.

American tanks striking up roads from the triangle to the east coast would cut squarely across the Red escape route from the eastern front.

NEW BUILD-UP

While Reds were pulling back from the fighting fronts, unverified reports cropped up that they were building up new forces only 30 miles northwest of Seoul. The build-up was reported in the Kaesong-Koranspo area.

This is near the foot of the Allied western flank. This flank drags southwest of the main front. It reaches from Cornwon to a point 35 miles to the along the banks of the Imjin River.

While the U.N. counter-attack has pushed northward along a narrowing front, patrols have probed this long flank daily for signs of Red strength.

The jagged northern front has been cut to about 75 miles. At the height of the Communist spring offensive it was 125 miles long.

CENSORSHIP TIGHT

(Precisely what is happening on the front is hidden by tightening military censorship.)

Few front-line dispatches have been permitted to come through in recent days. Those are heavily censored.

"Handouts"—reports written by military press officers—have increased. Discussions of front-line action by briefing officers have become vague.)

Communists were reported anchoring their new defense line on Kumsong. The highway town guards the escape route for North Koreans on the eastern front.

Reds have a 50-mile march over mountain trails and roads from the Inje-Yangu area of the eastern front to a highway junction above Kumsong. The highway runs from Kumsong, through Kumsong to the east coast highway that lies under the guns of blockading U.N. warships.

Showers and low hanging clouds failed to ground U.N. planes. They flew 750 sorties Monday.

Three American planes were shot down over Red territory. One pilot was rescued.

That a cease-fire was to be arranged near the 38th Parallel.

"As far as Koreans are concerned," he said, "there is no 38th Parallel and if the war should be stopped at the 38th, the Koreans feel they have sacrificed and destroyed most of their country in vain."

ONE WOMAN'S DAY

By NANCY HODGES

DERBY DAY PERSONALITIES

LONDON.—Yesterday I wrote about the Derby and today I want to tell you something about the personalities that are as much a part of this racing classic as the horses themselves. The gypsies were at one time a feature of these racing fixtures on the Epsom Downs; but of late years they became such a nuisance to race-goers that they have now been banned.

No longer do you see their caravans, with the picturesque—if dirty—Romany men and maidens and brown-skinned youngsters who pester you to "cross their hands with silver," in return for which they would tell you your fortune. But, as we stepped from our car near the grandstand, half a dozen gypsy women importuned us, holding out red carnations: "Buy a red carnation, lady, to bring yer luck! Don't tempt yer luck, lady, just for the sake of a 'tanner' or two!"

TIC-TAC MEN

IN BETWEEN races I was greatly intrigued by the "bookies" who swarmed in the enclosure about 50 feet below our box. With only a small signboard bearing their name, and an open leather bag as their office, safe, and bookkeeping establishment combined, they exhorted backers in hoarse, strident voices to "Back yer fancy with old Joe! Bin in business for 30 years and always paid the best odds! No waitin' an' no welshin'!"

With each bookie was his "tic-tac" man, who before each race, stood on the tiny platform and "wig-wagged" the betting to fellow-conspirators across the course. It was amazing to see these men, all wearing large and ill-fitting white gloves, making mysterious semaphore signals that reminded me of an exaggerated deaf-and-dumb alphabet, done at lightning speed. How the fellow across the course ever distinguished his pal in that enormous crowd mystified me.

AFRICAN BOOKIE

ANOTHER FAMILIAR of the course-pointed out to me was the ebony, African bookie, who has been attending the Derby for years. In his long, dirty robes and his velvet and gilt headress, stuck with bedraggled ostrich plumes, he was a sight to remember. But he was evidently popular with the race fans, judging by the business he was doing, so I can only conclude that some race-goers prefer the spectacular when they "put their bobs on."

I looked around, too, for some of the "pearlies" that I have always heard associated with the Derby. But I saw only one of them, a youngish man in a suit elaborately decorated all over with thousands of pearl buttons, arranged in a star design. Even his cap was covered with the buttons.

'PEARLIES' OF THE PAST

IN THE OLD days, the "costermonger"—as the barrow-boys of yesterday were called—and his "donah" turned out for the Derby a glitzy barrow from head to foot in "pearlies," the "donah" topping her finery with a large picture hat trimmed with waving ostrich "feathers"—the more the feathers and the brighter the colors the better.

And they usually rode there from the East End of London in a barrow drawn by a donkey—even the donkey being suitably decorated for the occasion. But while we didn't see a donkey-drawn barrow in the cavalcade of cars, we did see several old, horse-drawn coaches of the kind that saw service in Dickens' day, drawn by four horses and with about 12 passengers on top and four inside.

JELLIED EELS

ACROSS THE course, a little to the left of us, was a fair, complete with roundabouts and swings, its calliope and "barkers" rivaling the cheers and cries of the race crowds in the din. And as always where there are crowds there were the ice-cream men and vendors of other wares more typically English.

For instance, the man who sold jellied eels did a roaring business—in more senses than one—as he doled the rather repulsive-looking mess out into cups. Chipped "taters" were another gold mine, judging by the demand for them, while the long queues outside the tea-tents reminded me that, races or no races, your true Englishman and woman aren't willing to forego their "cuppa tea" under any circumstances.

SHOPLIFTING TWIST

Hide Loot In Panties

DENVER (UP)—Four Chicago girls were accused today of stealing $10,000 worth of clothing by smuggling the loot out of Denver department stores in their panties.

The girls were Louise Taylor, 22; Zelma Brooks, 22; Rosalie Thomas, 26, and Alice Williams, 23.

They pleaded guilty to at least part of the charges Monday, admitting they stole $123 worth of merchandise from a dress shop here.

They will appear before probation officers on June 27. But Det. Capt. Le Raedel said he was prepared to file additional shoplifting charges against them if they were granted probation.

"We know these four women are part of a national shoplifting ring working out of Chicago,"

Raedel said. "We know they shipped three boxes of stolen merchandise out of this city."

Canadian Artillerymen 'Making Hit' In Korea

By BILL BOSS

Canadian Press Staff Writer

WITH THE CANADIANS IN KOREA.—Canadian gunners "made a hit" right from the beginning in Korea.

The unit barely had time to dig in on the Korean front before it was firing "murder" targets—concentrations of all its guns on enemy positions.

During its first 24 hours on the front unit shot off more than 1,300 shells.

Batteries in that first day supported a British patrol. They fired on Chinese ahead of mountain positions. And they helped an American unit clear out Chinese troops who had infiltrated behind two of its companies.

Lt. Col. A. J. B. Bailey, of Duncan, and Kingston, said "We were told that the results were very good."

The gunners had set something of a record by being there at all. Only two days previously they were at the South Korean port at which they had landed. Spanning the distance in great strides, their convoys were at the front 48 hours later, guns were positioned on sites prepared by an advance party, and in no time flat were ready to take on targets.

U.S. Tax Jumps May Get Committee's O.K. Today

Increases On Cigarettes, Liquor, Gas, Cars Part Of $7,000,000,000 Boost Requested

WASHINGTON (UP)—The House ways and means committee met today to decide whether to give final okay to their tentative endorsement of higher excise taxes on cigarettes, gasoline, liquor and automobiles.

Tentatively approved are these excise tax increases: Automobiles from 7 to 10 per cent; beer from $8 to $9 a barrel; liquor from $9 to $10.50 per gallon; gasoline from 1 1/4 to 2 cents a gallon, and cigarettes from 7 to 8 cents a pack.

The increases are part of the $7,000,000,000 tax-boosting bill which also hits individual income and corporations. The committee hopes to wind up work on the bill this week and have it prepared for the House next week.

The Public's Automobile

THE MOST VIVID EFFECT OF Canada's deflation policy is seen in the automobile industry. In the first three months of this year the industry was booming. It sold 94,406 cars as against 71,788 for the same part of 1950. A national survey by The Financial Post shows that in the last few weeks "business has skidded to a maddening crawl." Sales of new cars are down from 15 to 60 per cent, depending on the make. The used car market is off anywhere from 40 to 75 per cent.

This slump is blamed on the government's installment buying curbs. Since people must pay for new cars more rapidly than before, with larger monthly installments, they refused to buy. But something much more effective than credit restriction is at work. "Dealers agree," says The Post, "that the average man has been just about priced out of the market." And no wonder.

A man who could buy one of the lower-priced cars for about $1,200 before the war and now must pay close to $3,000 by the time he gets it on the road decides to keep his present car. Canada is a rich nation and richer than it ever was before but a large part of it simply cannot afford the present price of Canadian automobiles. Hence the huge sales of cheaper British cars which fortunately have arrived just in time to provide essential transportation for those who find themselves unable to buy Canadian models.

The automobile industry, like many others, may have regarded the last year or two as normal times, in which it had no trouble selling cars at almost any price. In fact they were utterly abnormal times during which the nation was trying to live beyond its income and fooling itself by debasing its money. The first attempt to return to anything like normal times, to introduce just a preliminary breath of deflation into the hot inflationary atmosphere, instantly shows how far abnormality has gone. In fact the decline in automobile sales is just one symptom—a symptom, incidentally, which shows that deflation is really beginning to work.

The problem of automobile manufacturers, like that of every other man in business these chaotic times, is difficult. He has to pay high prices for materials, high wages to workers, high freight rates on the railways, high rents and many other heavy costs. Moreover, a substantial part of the retail price of a car (or almost any other kind of semi-durable article) is a government tax. That money goes not to the manufacturer but to the public treasury. And the tax has been raised to a new high, not so much to increase state revenues as deliberately to discourage the sale of these articles and thus to save materials, machinery and manpower needed for defense.

Nevertheless, until the present economic climate changes and unless we are to plunge into more inflation, kidding ourselves with debased money, the Canadian automobile industry will be wise to contrive a cheaper car. Motoring, in new Canadian models anyway, is getting out of the reach of the ordinary Canadian. And surely the reduction of ornament, accessories and perhaps size Canada can build a car which its people can afford.

Why Wait Until The Balloon Goes Up?

WHEN THE COALITION GOVERNMENT was first formed, Premier Johnson told British Columbia radio listeners the other evening, the province provided $1,486,000 to support its 14,700 old age pensioners. Today, he added, the total number of recipients has risen to 32,600 and the cost to $6,330,000 annually.

Estimates of the expected normal increase fix the number of prospective pensioners by March 31, 1952, at 35,000 and costs at $7,082,500, under present provisions. This does not take into account the numbers, or the costs, when universal pensions become effective Jan. 1.

Mr. Johnson also listed the increase in social allowances cases from 7,700 in 1943 to 17,284 during the current year, and stated costs had gone up from $1,171,000 to $4,545,000. To that he added the comment that other services have increased substantially and the over-all increased costs for old-age pensions, social assistance, mothers' allowances and child welfare has risen from $3,557,000 in 1943 to $14,198,000 in 1951.

This is the picture a little more than six months before the new Canadian pension arrangements will be put into force. What the estimates, specifically those for old age pensioners, are considered a factor in government policy which, presumably, cannot yet be announced. The estimates, at any event, are on hand at the Parliament Buildings, but have been refused to this newspaper.

The provincial government may be wise in withholding that information. It may be wise in declining at this time to discuss with the public the alternatives it may have in mind covering ancillary benefits to those who draw pensions. But as long as the public remains in ignorance, the government may expect the outbreak of uninformed speculation that so frequently prejudges the rightward consideration of issues of this nature.

Obviously, when the new old age pension plan goes into effect, British

But Chiang Remains

AFTER DENYING THAT AMERICAN policy toward China has changed—as Mr. Dean Rusk seemed to say—Mr. Acheson has now gone much further and declared in effect that the United States could not re-establish Chiang Kai-shek even if it wanted to. This he said saying.

The American Government is under constant attack by its Republican enemies for destroying the Nationalist Government. As Mr. Acheson implies, the Nationalist Government destroyed itself, even though it had received massive economic support from the United States.

Conceivably it could have been saved if the United States had been willing to fight a major civil war in China and, by force of arms, to compel the Chinese people to accept a government in which they had lost all confidence.

Nothing could have suited Russia better than the complete involvement of United States power in the morass of China while Europe and the rest of the free world were left defenseless. And nothing could have so surely antagonized the whole Asiatic world against the west as the spectacle of American power inflicting an unwanted government on China.

It is true that China now finds itself with a government much worse than Chiang's but this is China's own business. It is not the business of the west to tell the Chinese how they shall govern themselves and in the end, however the west may try to intervene, the Chinese will decide that vital question for themselves.

History—the rise of Napoleon when Britain and its allies attacked revolutionary France, the consolidation of the communists under outside attack at the end of the First World War—shows that a people invaded by foreigners will rally around the existing government however they may loathe it. Nothing is more likely to consolidate Mao than the presence of foreign soldiers in China and nothing is more likely to consolidate all Asia against the west.

If Mr. Acheson accepts this calculation, as apparently he does, the problem of Chiang in Formosa remains. The United States is supporting him there, is determined to keep the island out of Mao's hands so long as China is bent on aggression. It can do no less while aggression continues and Formosa remains a vital base against communist expansion. But if China abandons aggression, if it negotiates a truce in Korea, what about Formosa then?

On that point the United States Government gives no answer. If there is to be a settlement after the Chinese have learned their lesson in Korea the question of Chiang and Formosa will have to be faced.

A Great Field For Service

OVER 6,000 CITIZENS SAW VICTORIA'S Boy Scouts and Wolf Cubs in displays at Macdonald Park on Saturday. To those in the grandstand the excellent exhibitions served at least to demonstrate the healthful outdoor activities of young people who are learning self-discipline and citizenship virtues as well as certain valuable skills.

What must have come home to the spectators was the understanding the position of scouting in this community was the urgent need to acquire more leaders for the work that is being done. Several troops and packs are threatened with disintegration unless suitable young men or women come forward to carry on the work of training and instruction. Here is a field for service that promises to yield big dividends. A great movement needs help. It would be unlike Victoria to ignore that need.

Chips Off The Old Brock

By DAVID BROCK

THE ART OF WRITING

I WAS reading, of all things, a copy of the Vancouver Daily Sun. Yes, sir, the Sun is willing to sell me a paper even if (as I suspect) it doesn't like me. This shows a fairness not often found in commerce. Too many businessmen are guilty of the deadly sin of Pride, but not the Sun. The Circulation Dept. of the Sun has inspired an editorial writer to call me naughty names, but in more than Christian charity it is willing to have me as a subscriber. There is a lesson for us all in this, though I haven't time to figure it out.

In this particular copy of the Sun there was an essay or sermon or technical lecture by the columnist Jack Scott, on the subject of what makes good writing. Much of what he said was true, and a little of it showed a certain insight.

HE MUST have been writing himself at one time, the sly rogue, or he wouldn't have known all that. This was the real inside dope. And I do not use the word "dope" in any offensive way, but refer only to information, gen, and tip-offs.

Yet I found a certain confusion in the essay, too. At one point Mr. Scott tells us that writing, good writing, comes honestly and easily. It is the most natural thing in the world. If you are a good writer, you are just born that way. "He told his story naturally, which is the one and only secret of good writing. Or good anything, for that matter." Teachers should tell their class that writing "is as easy as walking." Writers tend to make a mystery of their craft, which is bunk. Writing is just a refinement of drawing pictures on clay walls. Kids and illiterates often come nearer to literature than hacks do.

THIS IS VERY TRUE BUT in conclusion, he tells us that professional writing is the hardest craft of all. (I do not suspect him of distinguishing between good writing and professional writing, or even of making a little joke.) He talks about the obstinacy of words, and the pain and sweat of getting them right. Any man, he says, who boasts about being a fast writer is a mere skimmer of the surface. All simple, easy style is the product of agony. And so on.

There seems to be some conflict here. It fills me full of an agony of my own "picture" a natural story-teller who doesn't know whether to be natural or to start sweating. It's enough to give the poor devil a split personality. . . . If he hasn't got on already, for it seems to me that no man would write at all if he were mentally adjusted. Poetry, for example, is written by men who are sick in one way or another, and are in search of a cure or at least a release.

A TRULY sound man doesn't need to write poetry . . . he IS poetry, and his life is poetry, and the hell with getting life off a bit of paper. And thus with fiction, too . . . there is an unhealthy need inside the man for such cardboard theatre. Books, as R.L.S. pointed out, are a mighty bloodless substitute for life.

I think Mr. Scott's trouble is that he assumes all writers and all writing to be the same. Generalization is always fun, and often useful, but it gets you into trouble, as it got Mr. Scott. He ended by contradicting himself . . . as better men have done these 5,000 years and maybe more . . . I've even seen dogs and cats contradicting themselves.

YOU CAN have good easy writing and good hard writing. You can have Wild Bill Shakespeare, who scarcely blotted a line and wrote whole scenes backstage while waiting to go on stage himself. Or Keats, who said that if it doesn't come as naturally as the leaf to the tree, it had better not come at all. You can also have Conrad, who said writing was more exhausting than packing coal. . . . he'd tried both. Or W. W. Jacobs, a not inconsiderable artist, who sometimes wrote 200 words a day, but more often 100. And Tennyson, who thought ten lines a day a pretty hot pace. And back again to Keats, who tossed off ten poems a day, complete, and felt lazy in doing so.

No, all men differ from each other. The only thing you can say about good writing is that, preferably, it should be written by a man who has something to say, and who knows how to say it . . . a rare combination.

AND even then, there are exceptions . . . Shakespeare had nothing to say in some of his lyrics . . . they are rubbish . . . but what divine rubbish they are! They're miracles, no less. You might add that in everything apart from lyricism, good writing is impossible without clear thought. And I am not sure that clear thought is taught any more.

In conclusion, I'd like to say that good writing is, essentially, getting the full effect. It all depends on what effect you want. But in any event, it should be vivid and persuasive. And the mechanical end of it should be invisible to the audience. I cannot imagine how anyone can get the full effect when he is style-blind, or any other kind of blind. Or deaf. I have never thought very deeply about this, mind you, but it suddenly occurs to me, at this very moment, that good writing consists of two things: knowing the people you are talking to, and knowing the people and things you are talking about. It might help to know a little about the English tongue . . . who knows? A gift for imagery might not be amiss, either . . . it all adds to the fun.

THAT WOULD BE SIMPLY GLAND

I AM told that all my thoughts and deeds are caused by my glands. If my brain (such as it is) can be called a gland, yes. If not, no. In my time, I have quite often told my foolish glands to pipe down. And they have obeyed. "Yessir, Cap'n Bligh," they mutter, and go below, leaving me and the old brain in sole possession of the quarterdeck. I think some of you doctors and patients get in too readily to those mutineers. "Ain't my fault, sir, a gland made me do it." Crime that gland, sir, don't crime me. You'd be surprised what you can do to a gland if you get tough. All glands are not really cowards, alas. But those particular glands are. Crack down on 'em. Put 'em in irons.

As Our Readers See It

LIKE 'DRAPES'

In regard to the recent riots between the soldiers and sailors and the civilians, we have a few words to say on behalf of the so-called "zoot suiters."

To begin with, not all the youths who have been taking part in these disturbances wear "drapes." In fact, a good many of them wear jeans . . . minus the chains.

You will find that the majority of high school students wear drapes simply because they like the style. Surely all these youths are not tough hoodlums as many people believe! After all, what do most soldiers and sailors wear when they are not in uniform? . . . Drapes! We are two girls who wear drapes and who would like to continue wearing them without being looked upon with scorn.

In closing we would like to emphasize the fact that it takes two parties to start a fight.

"TWO TEEN-AGERS."

WILD LIFE

Your correspondent (Mrs.) E. M. Gerrard-Mason apparently condones the somewhat ruthless slaughter of two innocent little creatures who, like the rest of us (your correspondent included) were only following Nature's laws and trying to fill their little tummies. She is entirely to blame for the fate of her poultry in that she allowed them to roam at large, a prey to every predatory bird and beast, rather than keep them under proper control. Fowls are of Oriental origin and their camouflage is not adapted to this country. They have lost the art of freezing, crouching and otherwise disguising themselves from their enemies. Under proper modern conditions (and I speak as one who holds an honor's certificate for poultry raising, and some years of practical experience in the past) not even a mouse should be allowed to enter a poultry house. Provided they have the proper allotted air and floor space, according to the type of bird being raised, a good supply of clean fresh water, a proper balanced ration, for health, maintenance, growth and reproduction, a scratch pen for exercise and a sun porch for the proper amount of vitamins, the birds are better off than when turned loose.

Whereas the coon kills for food, we slaughter not only for food but also in the name of sport. "All creation groaneth" and life on this planet exists only in a welter of blood and tears; but what can we do about it?

IMMORTALITY

If Mr. Watherston is serious in asking for the definition of a mature mind, I think that he and all other reasonable people will immediately accept the criterion of a person who has widely read and understood serious books on the sciences, different schools of philosophy and the infinite variety of religions. A simple test would be if the reader is able to discuss the subjects contained in such books intelligently with his fellow-men; that man or woman has a mature mind beyond all possible shadow of doubt. Of course, I do not maintain the mature mind can know all these subjects, but wide reading, taking in all angles, is necessary to the mature mind.

Mr. Watherston must know there are very many scientific tests for intelligence. I have no doubt he is also sadly aware that the average North American has been proved to remain around the intelligence achieved by a child of 12 throughout his entire life.

Mr. Greig maintains we are one. What, Mr. Greig, with the great majority of us rushing straight to Hell and only a very select few attaining paradise?

Holy Scripture says the sheep shall be separated from the goats which hardly supports the comfortable theory we are all one. I, as a Humanist, certainly believe that the human race is one, black, yellow or white. I believe in the fellowship of man, but not in the fatherhood of some incomprehensible "Creator."

Is it not logical to suppose that just as we came from nothing to nothing we shall return?

"HUMANIST."

Cariboo Trail—Via The P.G.E.

(This is the fifth of a series.)

By STUART KEATE

PAVILION, B.C.—What is your favorite Canadian beauty spot?

The rugged Topsis area of Newfoundland, perhaps? The Annapolis Valley of Nova Scotia, or that artists' haven, Peggy's Cove? Perce Rock in the Gaspé, or the Brome Lake country of Quebec's Eastern Townships? The Gatineau hills near Ottawa, particularly when the autumn leaves start to turn?

If you are an Ontarian, you might vote for the windswept islands of Georgian Bay, immortalized by the Group of Seven. Or the Muskoka Lakes district north of Toronto.

Farther west, you will find plenty of admirers of the Lake of the Woods area around Kenora. All of us have heard Saskatchewan farmers extol prairie sunsets and the special attractions of a sweep of land unmarred by human habitation.

Lake Louise, of course, is as beautiful as its press agents claim, and more beautiful than the pale sonnets composed in its honor by Hollywood lyricists.

On this island, you may be pardoned your enthusiasm for the Forbidden Plateau, or the glassy serenity of Sproat Lake on a warm June day.

CANADA'S GRAND CANYON

On last week's Board of Trade junket over the P.G.E., many of us added a new one to our list—and with the proper humility of Johnny-Come-Latelys.

This is the Upper Fraser Canyon, not to be confused with the gorge traversed by the national railways in the Hell's Gate-Lytton country. This one, sometimes referred to simply as "The Chasm," runs about 25 miles between Lillooet and Moran and has many of the attributes of Colorado's Grand Canyon, although lacking its magnificent color gradations. The British Columbia canyon is awe-inspiring: 3,000 feet deep, about a mile across and flanked at either end by snow-capped peaks. High up on the east bank, the P.G.E. threads a delicate route; on the other side is mesquite country, lined only with the pack-trail of a lonely miner who washes a little gold in the river below.

Because the P.G.E. is tied to a ship schedule at Squamish, it passes this breath-taking spectacle at 5:30 a.m. But such is its fame that most American tourists on the line rise early to watch and wonder.

CARSON COUNTRY

This is "Ernie Carson country." As a young man, the Works Minister served with the original survey party of the P.G.E. in the area. Here, at Pavilion, the train passes the general store where he sold produce and did a trucking business; five miles to the north, on the plateau, is the Carson ranch so lovingly described by Bruce Hutchison in "The Fraser."

Mr. Carson was along on the Board of Trade tour. Involuntarily, his appearance on the open-air car at the rear of the train took on some of the aspects of a stumping tour. Passing by a farm, he waved to a figure in the field, cried: "Hi, Slim!" The farmer waved back: "Hi, Ernie!" And so it went, down the line to Squamish.

His popularity throughout the Cariboo was manifest. A Queneset businessman observed: "There wasn't even too much fuss up this way about hospital insurance. People know they've got a good man at Victoria in Ernie Carson. He understands this country and he'll always do his best for it."

In a new series of radio advertisements, the government seems to be plugging the line: "See British Columbia first." One look at the Upper Fraser Canyon will convince anyone of the soundness of this appeal.

Ups And Downs

By BRIAN TOBIN

"THIS isn't an age," said the Elevator Man, "that spends much time looking back. People, cities and countries seem more concerned about what they're going to do, tomorrow or next year, than about what happened in the past. We don't think much about where we came from. All we're worried about is where we're going. Yet even with all this concentration on the subject, we probably know less about our ultimate destination, or at any rate have more doubts about it, than folks in any other time in history. I guess the fact is that you can't know much about where you're going if you don't pay some attention to where you've been. If you look at the trail you've left and see the curves here and the turns there you have a better chance of figuring out what your path ahead will be. You can try to make it a better one. You can at least hope it'll be no worse. Going up!"

"There used to be a maxim," said the Elevator Man, "that history repeats itself. You don't seem to hear it so much today. Remembering what the history of the last couple of generations has been I guess most people would rather forget the whole idea. A repeat of that order is the last thing we want, but it's the one thing we're afraid we're going to get. Wars, depressions and so on don't need repetition to get the idea across to most of us. But there seem to be some around who weren't paying attention when the lesson was handed out. Mind your step!"

"Some of us," said the Elevator Man, "try to find out where we came from, but get the wrong idea. A youngster just home from his first day at school asked his mother that question once. Mama was all primed for it, having read all the best books. 'This is it,' she thought, and launched into a long story about the birds and bees so the lad would get a normal approach to sex. 'So that's where you come from,' she ended up, and watched the youngster for his reaction. 'Oh,' he said. 'I just wondered. The boy who sits in front of me comes from Alberta.'"

Under Our Roof

By JOHN RHODES STURDY

TO KEEP my mind off the impending arrival on the coast of Hamish, Col. S. Skeffington-Smuts (Ret.), and possibly Little Augie (shudders!), I've been sticking pretty close to my typewriter, trying to finish a screen treatment that has been bothering me for some time. As I've been known to write for motion pictures—and as every now and again I get a letter which says: "Dear Sir, I want to write a film story. Will you please tell me how, by return mail, as I am badly in need of $150,000. Yours truly," I might as well take a couple of hundred words off from my daily schedule and explain the whole thing.

Most people who want to write for the screen make one fatal mistake. They come to the typewriter equipped with plot, characters, situations; in fact, everything but the most important thing of all—adjectives. Now, you simply can't get anywhere in Hollywood unless you have a store of adjectives instantly at your command. And I don't mean the crummy little one-syllable ones that are all right for novels and plays—I mean, great, soaring, magnificent examples of the adjectival art.

ADJECTIVAL SKIDS I remember the heart-breaking sight of a once great screen writer standing humbled and broken before a motion picture producer who, with accusing finger pointed, had just said: "You're through, Smulch. We're not taking up your option. For the past month your adjectives have been slipping!"

And so to would-be film writers, I say: first: Look to your adjectives. Beg, borrow or steal them, but keep them flowing.

Of course, the perfect screen play would be all adjectives. I'm afraid, however, that this is too much to ask of anyone, and even the best in the trade find themselves letting a verb or a noun slip in now and again.

(Come to think of it, newspaper sports writers should make excellent scenarios. I remember being chilled to the bone one time back East, when I lived in the apartment house where Hamish was the assistant janitor, and happened to read an account of a football game by one of my newspaper colleagues. It opened as follows: "The snarling Hamilton Tigers, fresh from the kill of a 12 to 0 win over Montreal, left the field in triumphant glory today, their claws dripping with the blood of their cowed and splattered opponents. . . ."

Boy, oh, boy!

BUT FIRST—SIZE

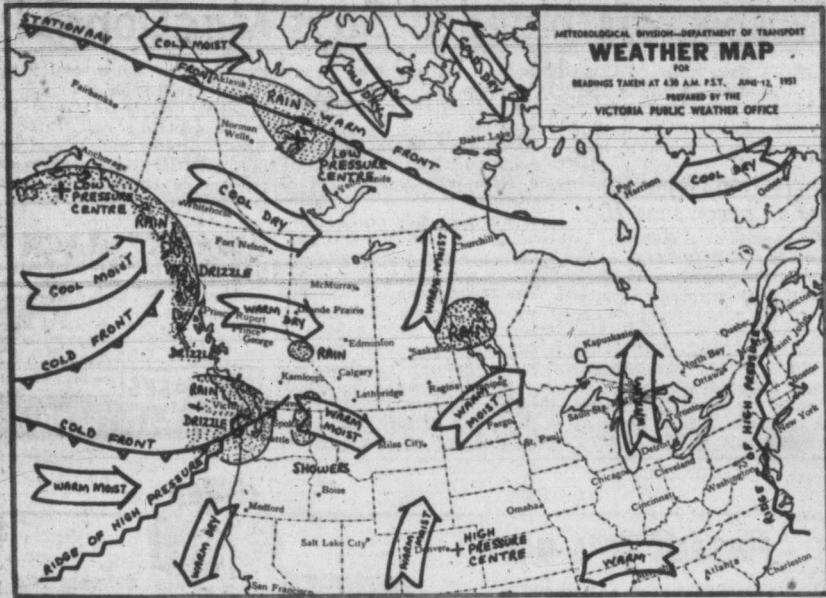

Well, now that you're well stocked with adjectives, a few minor things can be added to your story, such as a hero, a villain and two girls-two. And, if you have time, a plot. You must make certain, however, that everything you do has "Size." In Southern California "Size" originally meant an overgrown hamburger smothered in chili, as served at Pomaine Tommy's in Los Angeles. Now, in Hollywood, it is recognized as an overgrown plot smothered in adjectives.

Well, there—it was a pretty easy course in screen writing, wasn't it? Of course, it doesn't need to end there. If you're really serious about making a success as a motion picture writer, the next step is to take your manuscript and burn it. Then hop a plane for Hollywood and reserve a permanent table at Lucey's Restaurant. If you sit there long enough (maybe for a year or so) someone is bound to notice you, and if it gets known around that you are a writer and "hot," you'll soon find yourself with a contract and $2,000 a week. Later on in life you can retire, without ever having written a word.

On the other hand, you can always stay at home.

(I've just received a wire. "Have arrived safely in Winnipeg, the Gateway to the West, the Land of the Number One Manitoba hard wheat. Regards, Hamish.")

Oh, Winnipeg!

Moscow Evidently Happy At Course Of Korean War

Western Diplomats See No Sign Of Peace Move; Kremlin Takes Long-Distance View

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW (AP)—There is no outward indication in Moscow today that the Soviet Union has approached the United States with suggestions for ending the Korean war, and this does not appear to observers here to be the time for an east-to-west appeal concerning Korea.

As far as can be judged from observation in this Soviet capital the Russians regard the fighting in Korea as going satisfactorily viewed from a long-range standpoint.

The Russians appear to be confident that the North Koreans and Chinese can prevent any western victory. So long as they do this, the Russians feel they are winning in the long run.

Western diplomats here express doubt that the Soviet Union at the present time intends any overtures to the west on the Korean question. They note that the Soviets seem convinced the west cannot win in Korea and that the Americans and other western troops either will make a costly blunder or will pull out of Korea for some other reason.

NEW, MIRACLE ELECTRONIC EAR HIDES DEAFNESS

CHICAGO, (Special)—An amazing new electronic ear which hides deafness and transmits even whispers with startling clarity, has been revealed by a noted Chicago electronic scientist.

He disclosed that this miraculous new discovery has rendered old-style hearing aids obsolete almost overnight, and brings new hope to the 15 million persons in the United States who are hard of hearing.

He reported that this electronic ear enables the deaf to hear without any button showing in the ear and without dangling battery wires. To acquaint the hard of hearing readers of this paper with this new miracle electronic ear which hides deafness, full details are described in a fascinating booklet, "New Discoveries to Help the Deaf Hear." It will be sent free in a plain wrapper to anyone who requests it. Address: Electronic Research Division, 1450 West 19th Street, 904 B Belmont Building, Chicago 8, Ill. BEDTIME STORY

by Thornton W. Burgess

You will find a mother's fears
Always sharpen eyes and ears.
—Old Mother Nature

She tried to tear open an old stump to get at some ants. What old Mother Nature has said is true. There is nothing like fear to sharpen a mother's eyes and ears. Mothers are always looking for trouble and listening for trouble. It is so much a habit with them that when they hear their children in trouble they are more worried than ever. Mothers are funny that way.

Mother Bear was out looking for something to eat. She didn't much care what it was as long as she could eat it. She even ate a mouthful or two of grass. She dug up some roots and ate those. She tried to tear open an old stump to get at some ants. Ants are very good eating if you like them. That is what bears think, anyway. She tried to dig out a mouse from beneath some old roots, but the mouse was too quick for her. A mouse wouldn't have been a mouthful, but it would have been a bite.

When you are as hungry as Mother Bear was, a bite helps. But she didn't get the bite and went on looking for anything that would fill her stomach and let her get back to her cubs. A stomach is a great nuisance sometimes, but it seems to be a very necessary nuisance. The truth is, stomachs rule the world. Full stomachs, unless they are too full, mean peace, contentment and happiness. There are too many empty stomachs in the world.

All the time Mother Bear was wandering farther and farther from where she had left her two cubs. She had sent the little black imps up in a pine tree and told them to stay there until she returned. She told them that if they came down out of that tree she would spank them, and they knew that she would. So they had scrambled up in the tree and Mother Bear went off to look for the food she so much needed.

All the time she was looking she was listening, too. Even the need of an empty stomach couldn't put those mischievous imps out of her mind. So while her eyes looked for food, her ears listened for any unusual sounds back by that big pine tree.

Perhaps because she was listening so intently she didn't use her eyes as well as usual. Anyway, she had found no more than half a breakfast when those listening ears caught a sound that caused her to throw up her head and listen more intently.

She sat up the better to listen. A Merry Little Breeze, one of Old Mother West Wind's children, came hurrying from the direction of the big pine tree where she had left those precious cubs. Straight to those listening ears that Merry Little Breeze brought a sound that caused the hair on the back of Mother Bear's neck to begin to rise. Her lips drew back in just the faintest of snarls. "Baw, baw, baw, baw!" came the faintest of sounds.

Mother Bear growled. It was an ugly growl. Then she plunged in the direction of that sound. It had become a wail now. In fact it had become two wails, and there was fright in them. Something was happening to her babies!

Now Mother Bear is big and she looks clumsy. She doesn't look as if she can move fast. But if you think she can't, that is your mistake. Be sure not to make it when she is around. The way in which she tore through the Green Forest was something to see. Twice she stopped to listen. The sound of those bawling babies was louder now. She knew that those cubs had not been hurt. They were not bawling from pain, but were bawling from fright.

Each time after listening for a moment Mother Bear snorted and then bounded ahead. She crashed through brush and jumped over fallen trees and logs that were in her way. Her eyes were red with rage.

Thunderer the Grouse and Mrs. Grouse took to the air with a roar of their stout wings. They flew up almost in her very face. She paid no attention to them. It is doubtful if she even saw or heard them.

Jump the Hare bounded out from a little pile of brush and the way those long heels of his took him over the ground was something to see. She didn't even look at him. She bumped into an old stump of a small tree, and knocked it over. She didn't even feel the bump.

The sound of those two small voices stopped. She stopped, the better to listen. She heard nothing. What did that mean? Had something already happened, something dreadful, to still those small voices? She plunged ahead. Fear, not for herself but for those precious cubs, was giving her more speed than ever. She was running almost blindly, too anxious to watch her step.

Up in the very top of the tall pine tree clung two little black imps, now too frightened to cry. A little way below them was Buster Bear. He was their father, but he didn't know it. They didn't know it either. But it would have made no difference had all of them known it. Buster was trying to shake them out of that tree.

Wedemeyer Plan To Pull Out Of Korea Criticized

Inconsistent With Support Of MacArthur Plea To Blockade China Coast, Use Chiang Army

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lt.-Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer's advocacy of pulling American troops out of Korea and severing diplomatic relations with Russia touched off a controversy today in the senate's MacArthur inquiry committee.

Senator Brien McMahon (Dem., Conn.) said in an interview there was a "major inconsistency" in the testimony from the one-time United States commander in China.

Wedemeyer was called back to the witness stand today for more questioning by the Senate armed services and foreign relations committees. Those groups are investigating the dismissal of MacArthur by President Truman and Far Eastern policy generally.

McMahon, a strong administration supporter in the controversy over MacArthur and Far East policy, said Wedemeyer was inconsistent when he:

1. Backed vigorously the steps MacArthur has advocated—bombing of Chinese communist supply bases, a naval and economic blockade of the Red China coast, and removal of restrictions on use of Formosa-based Chinese Nationalist troops; and:

2. Then, later in the day, called for withdrawal of American troops from Korea and a simultaneous breaking of diplomatic relations with Russia and her satellites.

Later, Wedemeyer said of his proposal to pull out of Korea: "Our military experts say—and they are much more knowledgeable than I am—that we are buying time. If that's the consensus of opinion of our military experts, I yield humbly to their view, to continue the struggle in Korea."

Up in the very top of the tall pine tree clung two little black imps, now too frightened to cry. A little way below them was Buster Bear. He was their father, but he didn't know it. They didn't know it either. But it would have made no difference had all of them known it. Buster was trying to shake them out of that tree.

PARADISE NOT SO GOOD FOR HUMAN RACE

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Tired of trouble? Wish you could find a paradise?

Drs. R. B. Spencer and M. B. Melroy, cancer researchers, told a medical convention of paramedical (one-celled animals) that won a paradise of plenty of food, good temperature, no enemies. In eight years the whole population had died out.

In another experiment bacteria were exposed to temperature of 125 degrees. In three days all were dead. But bacteria exposed to the same temperature and then normal temperatures over and over again thrived.

"As individuals, we yearn for peace, stability, security," Dr. Spencer said. "But nature seems to imply that all that may not be good for the race."

Prospectors Needed Says MacDonald

There's more than gold, copper, lead and tungsten in them hills. There's zinc, too.

Mines Minister B. C. MacDonald of British Columbia made this point last night in a radio talk while saying there's still plenty of room for the old-time prospector.

As an example, he mentioned the hill on which the old Emerald Mine is situated south of Nelson, B.C.

It was originally prospected a century ago for gold and copper. Later, a high-grade deposit of lead ore was found.

Later still, tungsten was discovered on the almost-abandoned property and it was brought into production again during the war.

Since the war, zinc ore has been found on the site and a new plant is milling 500 tons of ore a day. With defence production being stepped up, tungsten is back in favor and a new 250-ton tungsten mill is being built.

British Columbia's future lies not in exporting raw materials from its mines and forests but in industrial development depending on cheap power, MacDonald said.

Neighbours the world over with NICKEL

Television brings far-away events to your eyes. Most metal parts of the tubes of the television camera and the receiving set are nickel or nickel alloys.

The heart of long distance telephone service is the vacuum tube—its metal parts are nickel or nickel alloys. Nickel alloys increase the efficiency of transatlantic cables. Men and women the world over are neighbours—with the help of nickel.

Hundreds of everyday uses for Nickel have been developed by the Nickel industry through a planned program of research. Today a large share of Canada's Nickel production is being diverted from peacetime uses into channels for preparedness. So the Nickel mine facilities, greatly expanded over the past decade, are again being operated at peak capacity. There is actually more Nickel now being delivered by Canada to the free world than in any peacetime year.

SOFTBALL 'FIELD DAY' PLANNED HERE JULY 15

The Associated Canadian Travelers in conjunction with the Senior A Men's Softball League have planned a gala "Field Day" to be held at Central Park July 15.

Field events such as base running, throwing to the bases, accuracy pitching and batting will be run off.

The final is a game scheduled between an "all-star team" picked on ballots by the softball fans and the team that is in first place on July 13.

Individual trophies will be presented to every member of the "all-star team" and the league's most valuable player.

Proceeds go to the Associated Canadian Travelers' benevolent fund, the senior A bleacher fund and the Queen Alexandra Solarium.

Coleman's Column

By JIM COLEMAN

One of the most arduous athletic tasks which confronts the mere male at this season of the year is known as "Re-opening the Summer Cottage." This is an event for which the competitors must go into the strictest training. Always wishing to be helpful to any bedridden readers whose eyes might wander to this space, your correspondent is going to pass along a few timely tips on the proper manner in which to cope with this annual problem.

In the first place, never take your male Boxer dog and your male Bugle bird in the first carload that leaves for the summer cottage. It is bad enough to be loaded down with the bedding, canned goods, the Old Battle Axe's potted ferns, Little Iodine's collection of motion picture magazines and Junior's arsenal, which includes an air-gun, hatchet, bow-and-arrow and atom-disintegrator.

It ever you have attempted to drive a Maxwell with a Boxer and a bugle wrestling in your lap, you will have a rough idea of our travails of the past week-end. After we had gone 10 miles the Boxer threw the Bugle with a cross-over toe-hold and a body-slam. After we had gone 25 miles, the bugle threw the Boxer with a half-Nelson and crotch-hold. After we had gone 40 miles, the Boxer threw the Bugle with an Indian death-lock. After we had gone 41 miles, we put the Boxer in the car's trunk and placed the Bugle inside the Old Battle Axe's hat, after which we crammed the Old Battle Axe's hat on her head.

Stop Me If You've Heard This One

Arriving at the landing we released the Bugle and told him to fly home with a message to our bank manager—a message requesting more money.

Then, we shoved the boat into the lake. Ah—there's a tense moment for you! You never can tell if the boat will leak. We put Junior into the boat and told him to row out into the middle of the lake.

The boat sank. Junior swam back to the landing. We simply offered a prize of a trip to Europe to the child who should load the greater amount of material into the boat. (It was cheap at the price.)

Adjusting our yachting cap, we pulled the cord on the outboard motor. The motor operated splendidly—almost half-way to the cottage.

Our cottage is on a cliff, atop a flight of 75 steps. It wasn't until we reached the cottage, carrying a stove and minor nicknacks, that the Old Battle Axe asked pleasantly: "Where's the key?"

Can you imagine a woman stupid enough to travel 118 miles before asking if you have the key?

If anyone saw us shove her off that cliff, we were only fooling.

It's Great To Have A Holiday

It is somewhat disquieting to find new tenants in your summer cottage. In this case, the new tenants were chipmunks. They were large, fierce and hungry chipmunks and they were opposed to eviction proceedings.

We were prepared for this emergency. We sided our male Boxer on the chipmunks.

The chipmunks threw the Boxer in 203 with a rolling body-slam and a cross-over toe-hold. The Boxer waved to us, jumped into the water and swam back across the lake. (If anyone finds him, he answer to the name of Koko.)

Exhausted, we climbed into our bunk at 10:10 p.m. At 10:11 p.m. we left our bunk. (How did we know that snakes liked to sleep in beds?)

It was a great week-end. We enjoyed every minute of it. We have the cottage reopened and it looks like a fine summer. These burns? ... Oh, they don't hurt a bit, really. But, we'd like to get our hands on that son of a such-and-such who put the naptha in the tin labelled "Kerosene."

Finally we have this summer holiday business beaten, though. We're going to spend next summer in a nice air-conditioned city apartment that bars chipmunks as tenants.

Island Boxing Body To Award Scholarship

A Golden Gloves boxing scholarship to Victoria College will be presented to a deserving fighter within the next two years and in each succeeding year if present plans materialize.

This was decided when the Vancouver Island Amateur Boxing Association held its semi-annual meeting at Nanaimo Sunday.

A panel of judges, two from the association, and Dr. J. M. Ewing, principal of Victoria College, will select a fighter who shows well in two tournaments and who has the desire and ability for a college education.

In giving his annual report at the meeting, secretary James Audain outlined and praised the activities of the southern clubs—Esquimalt, St. Louis College and City Police. He also gave special praise to the Alberni club, calling their work and participation "a smashing good show."

The lone dark note in the secretary's report concerned lack of progress and the absence of representatives by the Nanaimo entry. He expressed the opinion that a city the size of Nanaimo should be able to produce more representation than had been this case.

After hearing a report on the work by the officers, the association gave a vote of confidence to president Roy Simmons whose work has been curtailed by pressure of business.

The financial report showed the association to be clear of debt. Second vice-president of the Vancouver B.C.A.B.A., Val Roche, stressed the fact that the boys who are training now are the material from which the Canadian team will be drawn for 1954 Empire Games.

A new departure at the meeting was the appointment of a liaison officer to act between the service clubs. Bob Chambers was elected to the post, the association feeling that the increased interest shown by the services warranted the new position.

NEW YORK (AP)—"I'll knock out Lee Savold inside six rounds," Joe Louis.

"I'll knock out Joe Louis in five rounds," Lee Savold.

Who's right? Or did you say, who cares?

Consensus of the "deep thinkers" around matchmaker Al Weill's Wigwam (once Jacob's Beach) is that somebody had better knock out somebody—quick. The possibility of 37-year-old Joe and 35-year-old Lee pawing through 15 rounds uncorks sad visions.

Changes Made In Mat Card

Wrestling fans who were looking forward to a rematch between Seelie Samara and Dr. Len Hall are in for a sad blow. Promoter Rocky Brooks announced last night that Samara has broken his leg and will be out of action.

However, Brooks has lined up another fine mat show for his second performance at the Arena Friday. Hall will meet Ralph Garibaldi and Dan Piechaw will tangle with Bob Geigel in a double main event. Two other bouts, including a couple of light-heavy fighters will be announced later in the week.

Beavers Whip Spokane; Solons Take Padres

Portland Beavers tested some Western International Baseball League opposition last night and, as might be expected, it was a lark for the fifth-place Coast League team.

They swamped Spokane Indians 11 to 1 in an exhibition game that drew the biggest crowd of the season at Spokane, 5,766 fans.

In the one regular P.C.L. game, Sacramento closed out its series with San Diego by defeating the Padres 4 to 1 on Al Benton's six-hitter. The Solons won the series six games to two.

JOEY MAXIM TO ANSWER DRUG CHARGE

CHICAGO (UP)—Joey Maxim is scheduled to tell the Illinois Athletic Commission June 25 whether he felt drugged when he fought Ezzard Charles for the heavyweight championship May 30.

The commission ordered the light heavyweight champ and his trainer, Al Del Monte, to testify after Maxim's manager, Jack (Doc) Kearns, told it yesterday that he didn't know whether the fighter was drugged or not.

Kearns said he had no evidence whether Maxim was under the influence of drugs, but that his fighter didn't look like himself against Charles.

Topplers Edge Ramblers To Take Second

The one-time last place Topplers are breathing the sweet air of second spot today. They gained a tie for the runner-up spot in the Women's Softball league last night by edging Ramblers, 11-10 at lower Central Park.

Trailing 7 to 3 at one stage, Topplers fought back gamely to score the winning run in the last inning. Marguerite Shaw was the winning pitcher.

Segura Takes Pro Net Title

QUEBEC (CP)—Pancho Segura of Ecuador last night won the Canadian professional singles tennis championship with a 6-3, 10-12, 6-3, 6-3 decision over defending champion Frank Kovacs of Oakland, Calif.

Segura and Bobby Riggs of New York later won the doubles title, defeating Bob Stubbs of Miami, Fla. and Mitchell Goront of Port Lauderdale, Fla. 6-4, 6-4, 3-6, 6-1.

Bevos Seek A's Catcher; Will A's Let Him Go?

A momentous meeting via long distance telephone is scheduled today between general manager Reg Patterson of the Victoria Athletics, playing manager Dick Barrett, and Bill Mulligan, general manager of the Portland Beavers of the Pacific Coast League.

It concerns the status of Lillo Marcucci, the A's hard-hitting catcher-third baseman.

The Portland Beavers, who have a working agreement with the Athletics, Monday sought to buy Marcucci from the A's to fill the position caused by an injury to catcher Joe Rossi, who broke his hand Sunday leaving the Beavers with only one receiver.

However, the A's don't want to let Marcucci go. He is the club's most valuable player and the Athletics. However, we don't have to sell Marcucci. Take him off our ball club and where would that leave us?"

"Mulligan is dickering with major league clubs for another catcher," Patterson continued, and he may get one. If he doesn't I don't know what will happen. At least Marcucci will be in uniform for the A's tonight at Spokane barring any unforeseen circumstances which may come out of today's meeting.

Another point that has been overlooked is Marcucci's feeling on the subject. Patterson doesn't want to prevent the husky catcher from getting a chance in the Coast League but he also wants to protect the A's interests.

There is a likelihood that if Marcucci goes to the Beavers, the A's will receive a replacement, but with the club in serious straits as it is, the replacement or replacements would have to be, at least on a par with the popular catcher.

A decision on the deal is expected today.

Sinovic Passes Marcucci In W.I.L. Batting Race

TACOMA (UP)—Vancouver outfielder Dick Sinovic climbed to the top rung in the Western International League batting race in games played through Sunday, June 10, according to figures released today by League President Robert E. Abel.

Performing exclusively against Wenatchee, Sinovic pitched over a stretch of six games, Sinovic hiked his willow mark 19 points to .378, some 15 points higher than the average of his nearest rival, Victoria's Lillo Marcucci, who was down 11 points to .366.

Third at .351 was another Victoria player, Don Pries, who was runner-up last week with a .363 mark.

While moving ahead of the stickers, Sinovic also regained the runs-batted-in lead by adding six for a season's total of 47, as against teammate Reno Cheso's 43 and the aggregate of 41 accumulated by Buddy Peterson of Tri-City.

Bill White of Victoria, Vic Bucola of Tri-City and Will Hafey of Wenatchee were tied for home run honors with seven each. Bucola added one during the week, while Hafey added two.

Baseball's Tough—In Port Alberni

Alberni teams have always been hard on their opponents, but Sunday their rivals were hard on themselves. Two members of the Campbell River Athletics, who were in Port Alberni over the week-end playing a double bill of basketball, met with trouble.

Left-fielder Joe Korsas met centre-fielder Don Cameron in a head-on collision. Korsas was taken to hospital with damage to the solar plexus region. Cameron played on, but with two black eyes.

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor.

It's never too late to recount a great victory — Vancouver Island All-Stars 1 to 0 triumph over Fulham. But we wonder where that leaves the Pacific Coast Soccer League and its plan of shunting Victoria United to the sidelines.

This deep, dark plot has been brewing for some years now, but each time United seems to get a new lease good only for the term of its ability to pay its way. This year was to be the last if we can believe what is printed in the Vancouver dailies, but now the shoe is on the other foot.

United, which in reality is the Vancouver Island All-Stars, is now King Dog of Coast League football. And the all-star club that manager Tommy Restell and coach George Kulai put on the field last Thursday is the same club that will represent Victoria in the forthcoming Dominion Cup play-downs.

Naturally the addition of Duncan stars Herman Henry and Stan Williams and Nanaimo's classy inside forward, Stan Bob, has helped to make the team. But even before the inclusion of these island imports, United was slowly but surely forging its way into the top bracket.

Their stiffest test came in the Fulham match and the side acquitted itself nobly. True they were outplayed in victory but they were not out-manoeuvred.

Fulham manager Bill Dodgin made this point clear on the day following the match when he said: "We made one big mistake in that match and I admit I didn't realize it until the match was over. That was in feeding our winger Arthur Stevens throughout the second half."

Pickburn Singled For Stardom

The Victoria team played a sound defence in this particular phase of the game and let Stevens roam at will while they set their defence. Then there was always that big red-headed fellow (John Pickburn) in position to clear the ball. He never made a miskick or a bad play.

While we're at it we may as well get to the point of the biggest misnomer in sport today—the title of B.C. All-Stars that was attached to the Vancouver club. Since when did Vancouver get the right to call itself B.C. All-Stars? Why, the selection committee wouldn't even consider a Vancouver Island player when one was mentioned as being a valuable addition to the mainland club for the second game in Vancouver. That player was John Pickburn.

But to get back to Victoria United. United this week starts on the trail of the Dominion football championship. It starts with the same club that defeated Fulham and a much stronger team than lost 2 to 1 to St. Andrews in the Province Cup final.

Montreal—Here Comes United

This could be the year. United has the spirit—a spirit that has seen the club without exception diligently take part in a monotonous training schedule with little fanfare or publicity.

The club is a blend of experience and youth and is a tribute to the coaching of Kulai and Restell, not forgetting trainer Earl Barnswell, whose position is sometimes lost in obscurity. However, one of the most important points concerning United is that it has a number of young stars who can step into the breach at a given moment.

Take for example the fact that against Fulham two of the starters were 18-year-old Bobby Allen and 20-year-old Denny McGee.

Add to this the fact that sitting on the bench during the game were two other outstanding junior stars, Cedric Robb and Don McGee, and one can see the future of United and football is in good hands. As a matter of interest, it should be pointed out that not until the day before the match did Restell decide on the right wing berth, Allen getting the nod over Robb. It was that close.

The prowess of Wally Milligan also occasioned more than passing mention from members of the Fulham side. "He plays a useful game," manager Dodgin said. Centre-half Bill Pavitt, whose duty it was to shadow Milligan, agreed.

PICKING UP THE PIECES . . . How times have changed . . . The Athletics are winning the close one now . . . and manager Dick Barrett is using no compunction whatsoever in pulling his pitchers in the late innings . . . It's paying off, too . . . Speaking of Barrett reminds us that Dick is looking for a summer home . . . He has three daughters . . . sleeping bags in an apartment do make it a rather crowded existence . . .

Doug Fletcher will be missing from the box scene for a time . . . He is holidaying in California . . . General manager of the A's Reg Patterson is still looking for a spot for left-hander John Briskin . . . He feels John needs more experience . . . From Toronto comes word of a six-foot, 14-year-old who can heave the ball 30 feet . . . He is John Ramsdell of St. Andrew's College . . . Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson is reported having trouble with his gimp knee again . . . There's a rumor about that advances have been made to certain Fulham players concerning the advantages of living in Victoria . . .

Joe Travis is now the proud possessor of the ball used in the Fulham match . . . Joe, who blanked the English team, says the autographed sphere is one ball which will never be kicked again . . . Here for the summer and assisting this department is Bob Hutchinson, crack sprinter of the University of Washington track team . . . Bob will cover the N.C.A.A. meet at Seattle, Saturday . . . He will also be seen in action at the Y centennial here on June 19 . . . And if you see another new face around here, it belongs to Denny Boyd, who joined the staff last week . . . Denny is an alumnus of Mount View and Victoria College.

Quote from this corner on Wednesday, June 6, concerning the Fulham match: Who knows? One goal might be enough. At least, the All-Stars feel it will, if they can get it first, unquote . . . Latest to join the hole-in-one club is Bob MacDonald, who Sunday scored an ace on the fourth at Cedar Hill while playing with W. Walsh and J. Callaghan . . .

St. Michaels Holds Reunion For Old Boys

St. Michael's School held its 21st annual Old Boys' reunion on Saturday at Windsor Park. A fathers' team easily defeated the school cricket team, running up 101 runs to 66 for the sons.

Two Old Boys' teams; the Olders and the Youngers, engaged in a well bowled game, the Olders winning 75 to 67.

In the evening the Old Boys gathered in the school gym for the annual banquet and general meeting. The following officers were elected: President, Dr. D. Boyd; vice-president, M. Ley; secretary, K. W. Symons; treasurer, J. Nation; committee-men, R. Nash, N. Worsley and D. Higgs.

Gasmen Now Lead In Tight City Loop

First place in the Senior A Men's Softball League has changed hands this month as often as a model A Ford. Today the new owners are Pitzer & Nex after they picked up a routine 8-4 win over Bluebird Cabs at Central Park last night.

NEW CITY FIVEPIN MARK SET

Clive Waggoner, youthful captain of the Capital Setters spring league team set two fivepin bowling records at Capital City Bowladrome recently.

Waggoner bowled a three-game total of 343-264-425—1,032. The total is a new record, as is the high 425 game. In the high single game Waggoner started out with 10 straight strikes. He then missed the headpin and spared back, just missing a perfect game. Bill Marshall held the old three-game record of 1,025.

Ruth Birkenhead, bowling for Chayko's Chicks, in the spring league, just missed the women's records for single and three-game totals. She bowled a total score of 844 with a high single of 358.

Inter-City Hoop League Proposed

At a recent executive meeting of the Victoria Basketball Association the major topic on the agenda was the possible entry of a Victoria senior A men's team into a league comprised of Port Alberni, Bellingham and two Vancouver clubs.

The promotion of this league has been started by Island president Wilf Cain. He feels that Victoria has sufficient hoop talent to stand up in the league. However, the locals may be stymied by travelling expenses.

Tentative plans call for Victoria to play their away games in series of two games. They would play on successive week-end nights on each road trip. It is Cain's belief that Victoria would, under the plan, be forced to much greater expense than the other entries.

Telephone calls are being made by the league to all ex-basketball players in a drive to collect equipment. Players contacted have been asked to donate any jerseys, shorts, shoes and jackets for delegation to the junior leagues.

Saanich Splits In Twin Bill

North Saanich Service Club's girls' softball team split a twin bill with Courtenay over the week-end.

Courtenay took the first game, 6 to 4, but Saanich came back to cop the second, 6 to 2. Marie Cooper pitched the winning game for the Saanich squad. A three-run homer by Ruth Peterson put the game on ice for Miss Cooper, who gave up only two hits and two walks.

CAMPBELL RIVER HOSTS HUGE BOWLING TOURNEY

Over $6,500 in cash will be awarded to the top bowlers in the Campbell River Kinsmen's first annual Bowl-A-Gram five-pin bowling tournament to be held from Aug. 24 to Sept. 1 inclusive.

Eight top teams will roll off for the winners' purse of $3,000 in the big event. There will be a $25 daily prize for the high single games and a similar award for the high three-game score. A special purse of $200 will be given to the team that travels from the most distant point to Campbell River.

Teams will consist of three players, and can be mixed sexes. Their handicaps will be computed from league averages as of April 30. Bowlers may enter as many times as they wish but one member of the team must be changed. Entry fee is $10 per bowler per event.

Entry forms can be obtained from any of the local alleys. They should be mailed to Bowl-A-Gram, Campbell River.

ROCKS FACE TOUGH HURDLE THIS WEEK

First-Place Position, League-Scoring Leadership At Stake In Successive Games

There will be a couple of scores to settle tonight when Shamrocks travel to the mainland to meet the third-place Vancouver Combines.

Firstly, the Rocks want to make up the two defeats they suffered at the hands of the Combines. They are the only club in the league that has taken the Rocks twice.

Secondly, Arch Browning will have his shooting eye oiled up in hopes of regaining top spot in the scoring averages. Jim Anderson of the Combines took top slot over the week-end when he picked up four points against Nanaimo.

Thirdly, the Rocks first-place standing is due for a pummeling this week. After playing Vancouver tonight, they return home to host New Westminster tomorrow night. Ferguson's men will have their hands full with these two trouble-makers, both of whom would love to dump the Rocks.

Anderson leads in the scoring statistics. Anderson has regained first place in the shotmaker's department. He has 35 points, one better than Browning. Norm Baker and Whitely Severson are next with 31 and 30. Bill Andrews continues to pace the goalkeepers with his .76 stopping percent.

SUGAR'S FOE WALKS OUT

ANTWERP, Belgium (AP)—Middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson scored a technical knockout over Jan De Bruin Sunday when the Netherlands decided he'd had enough. He stroled out of the ring in the middle of the eighth round.

De Bruin showed no bruises from the heavy pounding the New York fighter gave him in the sixth and seventh rounds.

De Bruin apparently did not like Robinson's easy treatment in the sixth round. Robinson had De Bruin in a corner twice and when he could have finished the fight he stepped back and let De Bruin out.

ENTRIES REACH 150

City Prep Stars Enter 'Y' Meet

Entries for the Y.M.C.A.'s centennial international track meet were swelled to 150 today when Victoria and Oak Bay High posted their teams for the meet to be held here Tuesday evening, June 19.

Vic High's provincial inter-high championship team will be out in force but will find the going a lot harder against some of the strong mainland clubs that are entered.

Ted Whan will be out to beat Doug Clement, who edged him here in the inter-high quarter mile. Clement set a new Oregon A.A.U. junior 440 mark of 51.6 at Portland last Saturday and it will take a lot of running to beat him. His Portland mark is half a second better than the new mark he set here in the inter-high. Clement will run under the colors of the Vancouver Quadra club.

All junior events will be scored separately and a special team trophy will go to the winning team.

Bruce Humber, coach of the host Y.M.C.A. team, said today that he has an outstanding field in both the senior men's and women's high jump.

The women's event will be a closed exhibition featuring the Hudson's Bay Club's Shirley Gordon, Olympic and Empire games star, along with Alice Folz and Marg. Lightfoot, two of the Quadra club's outstanding Canadian junior girls.

In the men's event Jack Bowers and Doug McLeod head the Vancouver entries, while Jim Lea, University of Southern California's number one freshman, sprint and hurdle sensation, will step out of his usual event to add to the entries. He has cleared six feet on several occasions. Locally the "Y's" Don Wilson, along with two entries from Dave McKenzie's Cadet squad, J. D. Thornton and K. S. Wrong, will be out to grab the winning points.

MRS. MARY WHISKER

Coalition M.L.A. May See Wife, Across Floor

A unique situation is shaping in the Esquimalt provincial by-election.

It was learned today by the Victoria Daily Times that Mrs. Mary Whisker, wife of Andrew Whisker, Coalition member of the Legislature for the Cowichan-Newcastle riding, will in all probability contest the former Commander Beard seat as an independent candidate.

If Conservatives of Esquimalt decide to join the Liberals again in running a Coalition candidate, Mrs. Whisker will be running against her husband's party.

"HOT SPOT"

The Tories are holding an executive meeting later in the month to plan their strategy in the Coalition "hot spot" where there has been years of bitter controversy over which party should select the Coalition standard-bearer.

Mrs. Whisker's entry in the by-election is taken as a further indication of unrest in Coalition. There was talk of her husband turning independent during the last session of the Legislature and it was suggested he gives his blessing to her candidacy in Esquimalt in opposition to Coalition.

The Coalition M.L.A. was unavailable for comment. He is at Lake Cowichan where he works during the summer months as a logger.

WELL KNOWN

Mrs. Whisker has been approached by several independent groups in Esquimalt, where her family is well known, to contest the by-election.

VICTORIAN SPRING

by Cecil Maiden

CVIII

Every table had its well-filled or rapidly-emptying glasses. They did not remain empty long. Ned Carson, his apron tied round his middle, circled about the room with an apparently unending supply of fresh bottles or fresh-filled glasses. Whisky was plentiful, and since gold was plentiful, too, brandy, and even some champagne found its way down many of the noisy throats.

Faces from all corners of the world were there . . . bearded and clean shaven, young and old. They belonged to men who, for the most part, worked hard and liked to play hard. There were cards on most of the tables, and not only a feverish rattle of dice, but also a clink of money, and a passing back and forth of nuggets, too.

"Hi, Ned!" yelled the bearded man with the ruddy cheeks. "Fill 'em up again!"

The top half of Ned Carson's body swam through the cigar smoke to answer this order. He was stopped by another customer en route. "Say, Ned! Make it a double Scotch all round—'Frisco Pete's back in town! And his five-cent dirt turned out to be fifteen-cent dirt . . . so it's drinks for all on Todd's flume!"

A wholesale order, that. But it meant more money in the till, and the eyes above Ned Carson's big nose twinkled with the success of his own private Saturday night gold rush.

Rolling in money though most of them were, however, half of them complained vociferously of the lack of it. A wiry little man over in 'Frisco Pete's group produced a mouth organ, and cupping it in his brow, stringy fingers, slithered it across his well-liquored lips and played a verse of a song that Ned Carson's saloon heard well nigh every night.

Hard but hearty voices took it up one after another, until all that side of the room resounded with it:

"Oh we ain't got a barrel of money,
Maybe we're ragged and funny,
But we'll travel along
Singing a song
Side by side.
Oh we don't know what's comin' tomorrow—

Maybe it's trouble or sorrow,
But we'll travel the road
Sharin' our load
Side by side!"

Every now and then a creaking of the main double doors announced some new arrivals. Mostly they came in twos and threes. Very seldom did they come alone—and even those who did were pretty sure to leave, much later, in good and merry company.

Another quick gust of wind and the creaking of the doors indicated yet another customer. He was alone this time, and very few eyes bothered to turn his way as he stood watching the crowd. He made his way over to the bar. And even those who did happen to notice him, did not observe that from his ear to his throat stretched a brown, uneven scar—like a bullet track, suffered long ago.

"Ecoutez!" sang out Madame Benedine to her girls. "I play the first two lines, pour faire l'attention. Then you all come in through that door and dance in two rows. Elsa! Did you wash those petticoats?"

"Ya, Madame."

"And Greta Schenwald—don't keep sniffing when you're out there!"

"Ich kann nichts rufur!"

"Of course you can. Make up your mind your nose won't run—et voila! It will not run."

"Lety? Voici, ma chérie—in the front row."

Madame Benedine gave them a final head-to-toe inspection and was satisfied.

"Afterwards," she said, "you mix with the men in the saloon, and the nice you look the more dances will you dance, and the more money everyone will make. Comprennez, mes petites choux?"

Yes, they understood—and a last little pat to their hair, or a last little pluck at their sleeves to bring out the fullness, or a last little check to see if their earrings were all right.

"Alone!" commanded Madame, and swept through the door with a gesture which had the peculiar effect of emphasizing both bust and hips at the same time. With tremendous gusto she banged out the introduction on the tiny piano, and Letty, linking one arm with the next girl and the other with her neighbor on the other side, skipped through into that portion of the saloon which had been cleared and prepared for them.

Newspaper Rural Post Rates Upped

OTTAWA (CP)—Increases will go into effect shortly in the mailing charges for Canada's newspapers and periodicals. For newspapers, both daily and weekly, this will boost the postal rate on copies going to rural readers.

The new rates will take effect after royal assent is given, within the next few weeks, to a government bill revising the Post Office Act and increasing charges the post office department makes for carrying publications.

The pertinent clauses were approved by the commons Monday night after vigorous Progressive Conservative opposition.

Before adoption, Postmaster General Rinfret shaved the increase in the new rates proposed for daily newspapers and said the change will mean the daily rate will be increased by about $810,000 a year instead of a proposed $1,000,000 a year.

This now means that newspapers with a daily circulation of more than 10,000 will pay four cents a pound on the advertising portion of each copy mailed and 2½ cents a pound on the portion containing news.

Previously, he had been proposing that newspapers of that size pay a straight four-cent-a-pound rate, regardless of advertising content.

At present, such newspapers pay 1½ cents a pound. However, if their advertising content exceeds 50 per cent of space they pay four cents for the weight made up of advertisements.

For example, if a daily issue of a newspaper runs to 1,000 pounds and if 60 per cent of each copy is made up of ads, the publisher pays 1½ cents a pound for the first 400 pounds and four cents a pound for the remaining 600 pounds.

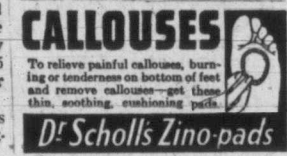

The rate is unchanged for newspapers of less than 10,000 circulation.

Mother, Son Die In Ontario Fire

BOYCAYGEON, Ont. (CP)—A five-year-old boy and his mother were burned to death Monday when fire swept through their farm home two miles west of this central Ontario town.

Burned to death were Mrs. Margaret Kuzman, 45, and her son Allen. Another son, nine-year-old Eugene Kuzman, suffered severe burns before being rescued by his mother who dropped him 15 feet to a mattress outside their burning home.

Hospital officials said the boy's condition is "critical—not expected to live."

Cumulative Redeemable Preferred Shares

Notice to the holders of share warrants and to registered shareholders

NOTICE is hereby given that: 1. A dividend (Number 11) of $1.15 per share in Canadian currency has been declared on the 4% Cumulative Redeemable Preferred Shares for the three months ending June 30th, 1951.

The said dividend will be payable on or after July 3rd, 1951 in respect of the shares specified in any share warrant on presentation and delivery of dividend coupon No. 11 at any Branch of The Royal Bank of Canada in Canada.

The said dividend will be paid to registered holders of said shares who are of record at the close of business on June 15th, 1951, by cheque which will be mailed on June 20th, 1951, from the office of the Montreal Trust Company, Vancouver, B.C.

2. A dividend (Number 12) of $1.00 per share in Canadian currency has been declared on the 4% Cumulative Redeemable Preferred Shares for the three months ending June 30th, 1951.

The said dividend will be payable on or after July 3rd, 1951 in respect of the shares specified in any share warrant on presentation and delivery of dividend coupon No. 12 at any Branch of The Royal Bank of Canada in Canada.

The said dividend will be paid to registered holders of said shares who are of record at the close of business on June 15th, 1951, by cheque which will be mailed on June 20th, 1951, from the office of the Montreal Trust Company, Vancouver, B.C.

3. The Income Tax Act of the Dominion of Canada provides that a tax of 15% shall be imposed and deducted at the source on all dividends payable by Canadian debtors to non-residents of Canada. The tax will be deducted from all dividend cheques mailed to non-resident shareholders and The Royal Bank of Canada will deduct the tax when paying coupons to or for accounts of non-resident shareholders. Ownership Certificates (Form No. 606) must accompany all dividend coupons presented for payment by residents of Canada.

Shareholders resident in the United States are advised that a credit for the Canadian tax deducted at source is allowable against the tax shown on their United States Federal Income Tax return. In order to claim such credit, the United States tax authorities require evidence of the deduction of said tax. For this purpose the Company's paying agent, Montreal Trust Company, 466 Howe Street, Vancouver, B.C., will, at the year end, mail to registered shareholders a Certificate of Tax Deduction covering the aggregate tax deducted from dividends paid during the calendar year. Bearers of Share Warrants, on the other hand, must complete Ownership Certificates (Form No. 601) in duplicate and the Bank cashing the coupons will endorse both copies with a Certificate relative to the deduction and payment of the tax and return one Certificate to the Shareholder. If Forms No. 601 are not available at local United States banks, they can be secured from any office of The Royal Bank of Canada.

Subject to Canadian Regulations affecting enemy alien, non-residents of Canada may convert this Canadian dollar dividend into United States currency or such other foreign currencies as are permitted by the general regulations of the Canadian Foreign Exchange Control Board at the rate prevailing at time of presentation to a bank.

My friend Dr. Zinnias (that isn't his right name) explains to me and anyone else who will listen, the beautiful simplicities of rustic living. "As is sometimes the way with nature loving philosophers, he deals with one side of the question only." To hear him, you have to ignore or overlook the slogan of a world-famous cigarette manufacturer who declared "Nature in the raw is seldom mild."

Dr. Zinnias deals with the attractive side of nature. He points to the glories of the sunset, the bright, clear light of the stars, the melody of the frog's spring song, the calm serenity of a forest hillside, green and soothing, that invites forth the soul.

MY FRIEND SPEAKS with authority. As a youth he discovered the eternal truth of nature's laws, the rhythm of her pulse, the abiding happiness of those rare humans who can bring themselves into tune with the symphony of a world unswayed by the hand of man.

Something like Thoreau, with certain differences, he acquired his shelter in the wilderness and began to live his life in the woods—coming out of them at regular intervals to preach their virtues and acquire by that preaching the cold cash to permit him to return to the solitude of big trees, the song of birds, and the quiet, almost unseen life of his lake.

In his youth he learned, too, that a man is rich who wants little and is able through his own spiritual and physical resources, to satisfy those needs which are his.

So it was with him and the idyllic existence he enjoyed, and which is now the basis for many of his most engaging conversations. Yet I, who should be a disciple and would like to be, find myself perplexed.

DR. ZINNIAS HAS taught me the joys of simplicities. A roof over my head should be a mansion, provided I can leave its shelter to see the stars, to hear the frogs and to feel Nature's pulse. Yet I see Dr. Zinnias, who is what men, sophisticated men, call a success, not caring now about the softening, deadening influences of urban living.

True, he retreats to the woods often enough to refresh himself, but those woods are changed. His cabin is altered. Where it once stood, roofed and boarded and roofed with shakes, it now rises emaculate in patent finish, with a composition covering overhead, great picture windows in its walls, electric light to be pressed on at the touch of a button, hot and cold running water and a three-piece bathroom.

Dr. Zinnias, with his own unique genius, has fled the city, but brought it along with him, creating in all the rustic surroundings of his former wilderness every amenity of urban living.

IN DUE COURSE, I presume, Dr. Zinnias will be stirred by a spiritual unrest which no philosophy will still. He will be plagued with the thought that he has transformed sanctuary into escape. And because he is an honest man, he may even flee the chromium fixtured domicile which was once his rustic shack, for some new wilderness, where he may begin again, hewing his own timbers, splitting his own shakes, making of toil a blessing and an honor.

There he will hear again the song of frogs in springtime. There he may even catch the glimmer of a star, as lying on his rude cot, he gazes through a chink near the ridgepole and sees a heavenly gem shining brightly. There he will lose the irritation of the radio's mechanical melody, and the eye-blinding glare of lights that flick on from a switch.

THERE HE WILL know, too, the discomforts of outdoor plumbing, the irritation of damp wood in his stove, the labor of packing water, the constant fight against draughts, the bumps and bruises that decorate the man who stumbles about in the dark. But these will be a small price to pay for salvation, the rediscovery of his soul.

What Dr. Zinnias may do in any future search for his soul, is what a large section of North American humanity does in miniature every year about this time. It isn't seeking sanctuary. It's objective is escape. So it saves up 1½ months for a holiday account, bids farewell to a push-button world, and heads for the unknown.

Somewhere, maybe on the top of a windy hill, maybe on the shore of a stream, lake or sea, it spreads its arms to the skies and sighs ecstatically. "Ah, Wilderness." There isn't a thing around to remind it of earlier escapades, except, perhaps a few empty bottles and rusted tin cans. These will probably be found on the peak of Mount Everest, just as they turn up in the wilds of this island.

IT ISN'T TOO hard, in this part of the world, to find a relative wilderness. Not yet, it isn't. But if you think the wilderness is always going to be available, think again. It's not. Not by a damself.

HOPALONG TAKES IT EASY

Rounding Up Bad Men, Parading Has Exhausted U.S. Cowboy Hero

Hundreds of Victoria youngsters waited eagerly today to catch a glimpse of their hero—William Boyd, better known as Hopalong Cassidy—who is in Victoria today on a seven-day visit prior to taking a trip to Alaska next week.

But the idol of millions of children all over the world and who is featured in one of the Victoria Daily Times star comic strips stayed out of sight most of the day resting and sleeping in his suite at the Empress Hotel.

He is "taking it easy for a day or two," Hopalong explained.

"I haven't had a rest for a year," apologized Hopalong. "You have to take a rest after you spent a year rounding up bad men, riding in parades and appearing in television."

Hopalong expressed the hope that the kids would be patient and give him a chance to do a little sleeping and fishing on Vancouver Island.

Hoppy said he also gave his beautiful white stallion, Topper, a holiday and had sent him to Los Angeles. He left his six-guns at home in Hollywood along with his cowboy outfit.

LATE BREAKFAST
The six-foot-two, white-haired actor had breakfast with his pretty wife, Mrs. Boyd, in his room at 10.30 this morning. Later in the day the couple visited in Victoria and looked over the fishing prospects on the island.

"I would like to have a go at fishing here before I leave for Alaska," he said. "But I haven't made up my mind yet where I want to fish."

"I'm chiefly interested in resting for the next few days," he said. "After that we will get down to a bit of fishing."

Municipalities Will Discuss Phone Rates

Ald. Waldo Skillings and Ald. Percy Scourrah will travel to Nanaimo to be the city's delegates to the annual meeting of the Association of Vancouver Island Municipalities which gets underway in Nanaimo City Hall at 10 Wednesday morning.

City Solicitor Arthur J. Patton will accompany the aldermen. The subject of a "co-operative front" on the part of all municipalities to protest the B.C. Telephone Company's latest application for increase in exchange and long-distance rates, will be introduced.

Mayor Percy George said he favored a province-wide protest through the U.B.C.M. and Victoria Council has protested the proposed increase.

Resolutions affecting legislation will all go to the 48th annual convention of the Union of B.C. Municipalities at Harrison Hot Springs, Oct. 9, 10 and 11. From there the U.B.C.M. will take them to the provincial government.

Any resolutions passed at the island meeting, however, which deal with questions pertaining to Vancouver Island, can be acted upon with the island municipalities making direct representation to the provincial or federal government.

HEAVY TWO-WAY TOURIST TRAFFIC
British Travel Bookings Full; Incoming Cars Set New Records

Tourist travel both in and out of Victoria for the first five months of the year has set new records, according to travel and booking agencies here.

All booking agencies report a sharp increase in travel from Victoria to the United Kingdom and the continent.

"We have had 50 to 60 bookings for Britain this year," one agent said.

He attributed the increase over 1950 Old Country travel to the Festival of Britain and to normal increase since the war. All passage to the U.K. is filled for the year, he said.

SAANICH MAY TIGHTEN UP SPRINKLING RULES

Saanich will have to tighten up its sprinkling regulations unless householders are a little more reasonable with their garden watering, H. D. Dawson, municipal engineer, said today.

At present, he said, a combination of small mains and excessive sprinkling has handicapped some residents in high locations.

"We have asked residents to observe the system we had last year, whereby those in even-numbered houses watered on even days of the month, and odd-numbered houses on odd days," Mr. Dawson said. "If people will do that, and not water after noon, there will be very little trouble."

Win Drama Awards
Mary Watson, North Saanich High School, and Gerald Guest, Esquimalt High, will each be awarded a $50 scholarship for outstanding performances in the Victoria Schools Drama Festival held in April, the festival committee announced Monday.

Waiting for Hopalong: Charlotte Eliason, Seattle; Susan Keach, Salem; John Vollert, San Francisco.

Homeowners' Protests On Army Unit Futile

Esquimalt Reeve A. I. Thomas and Victoria Chamber of Commerce officials were in agreement today that apparently nothing can be done for three Clifton Terrace homeowners who claim their view will be blocked by proposed construction by the army of a new 15,000-square-foot radar centre near their property.

The radar centre will be part of an expansion program at Work Point Barracks which will also provide a mess hall and barracks block to accommodate 180 men.

Meanwhile, one of the protesting homeowners, A. C. Ralfe, 318 Clifton Terrace, told the Victoria Daily Times today: "Reeve Thomas and I believe, the engineer, gave us to understand that the property in Work Point opposite our homes would revert to the municipality and be subdivided."

"It doesn't seem right to me," said Mr. Ralfe. "He (Col. Arthur Perry, garrison commander), is talking about pushing people around. I'd like to know who's pushing who."

DUMP UNDER DEBATE
The Transfer garbage dump, another subject of concern to other Esquimalt residents, was discussed at length by municipal council at a meeting Monday night. Councillor John Carey supported claims of nearby residents that the dump was attracting rats. He said he had seen two.

Councillor A. C. Wurtele, chairman of the council's public works committee, however, said he had visited the dump, had seen no rats and had noticed no smell.

He explained the "dump-and-fill" plan was being followed at the Transfer and that eventually the former swamp would be reclaimed.

Reeve Thomas and Councillor G. R. Guillemaud told of having visited the dump, and reported finding no real nuisance. Turning to the question of telephone service, council voted in favor of registering opposition to the application of B.C. Telephone Company for an increase in rates.

Saanich Will Ballot On Planning Body

Saanich council members will vote at their next meeting on nominees to the Saanich town planning commission, it was decided at the regular meeting Monday night.

Reeve Joseph W. Casey, Councillor Grace Shaw and a school board member will automatically join the nine-man board. The remainder will be chosen by council vote.

Nominated are E. H. Lohbrunner, landscape gardener; D. Wagg, architect; Hubert Savage, architect; W. P. Beavan, retired engineer; Dr. J. M. Thomas, Mt. View High School principal; H. M. Hall, real estate; and Kenneth Genn, chartered accountant.

H. Blakeney, superintendent of works, reported there was little possibility of establishing a fire truck route over Department of Transport property in Gordon Head camp.

Nanaimo Bakers Ask Wage Boost

A weekly wage increase of $10 and a five-day work week requested by employees of two Nanaimo bakeries will be considered by a conciliation board, the Labor Relations Board announced today.

The board will be composed of J. B. Thomson, chairman; C. Ian Cameron and R. K. Gervin, all of Vancouver.

Bakeries involved are the Canadian Bakeries Ltd. and McGavin Ltd.

NEW RECORD
The total increase of tourists here over the same period last year is 13 per cent. This is a new record, breaking the one set in 1949 when 5,546 cars, carrying 14,320 passengers went through customs.

Malahat Crashes Injure 10 Persons

Three Crashes Cause Heavy Car Damage; Two Soldiers Are Held

Ten persons were hurt, none seriously, in three traffic crashes in which $2,800 damage was done to four vehicles on the Malahat stretch of the Island Highway yesterday and today, R.C.M.P. Highway Patrol reported.

Police are holding Gunners Ralph Barrett and Patrick John Steele, 18-year-old soldiers of 119 Battery, Gordon Head Camp, following an accident in which a stolen 1950 model car crashed into the rocky wall of the Malahat's steep Tunnel Hill at 6.30 this morning.

A-G. To Name Arbitrator In Races Dispute

Attorney-General Gordon Wismer announced today he will name an arbitrator in the dispute between the operators of Vancouver's two race tracks and horse owners over the amounts of purses to be paid at 70 days of racing scheduled in the mainland city this summer.

In asking that both parties co-operate in the plan, Mr. Wismer appeared optimistic that the threatened cancellation of the race meets over the purse question is over.

The attorney-general said decision to appoint an arbitrator was made following a meeting Monday evening with representatives from the horse owners.

He said: "My efforts to settle the dispute were unsuccessful."

"I feel that the people want racing this summer. The obvious and only way out of the difficulty is by arbitration."

"I propose to appoint an arbitrator at once."

Mr. Wismer said the B.C. Turf and Country Club, operator of Lansdowne race track, which is scheduled to open June 20, had requested the appointment as well as a large group of the horse owners.

If the dispute is not settled by June 20, the Lansdowne operators agreed to pay minimum $850 purses and retroactive increases if any, set by the arbitrator.

Others in the Astor race track at St. Joseph's and then released were Betty Westfield, 1367 Vista Heights, and Phyllis Jones, 476 Finlayson Street.

Treated and then released from King's Daughters' Hospital at Duncan were McCall, his wife, and Jack DeVries, all of Duncan.

Edward Earl Dickinson, Comox, a hitch-hiker, Edwin Salo, Alberni, suffered minor hurts Monday afternoon when the Austin sedan Dickinson was driving turned over on Tunnel Hill. About $600 damage was done to the car.

IN COURT

Bernard George, 1441 Craigflower Road and Mary Leam, 855 Selkirk Avenue, were each fined $30 when they pleaded guilty to driving cars without being the holder of 1951 driver's licenses.

Richard Hope Grant, Canadian Services College, Royal Roads, pleaded guilty to a charge of careless driving and was fined $35.

Name Conciliator In Labor Dispute

A conciliation officer has been named by the Labor Relations Board in a dispute between four local plumbing firms and the United Association of Journeymen and Apprentices of the Plumbing and Pipefitting Industry.

W. T. McLaughlin will attempt to bring the parties together in the matter of increased wages, annual holiday pay, medical and hospital benefits requested by the union.

TO ASK SWEEP PLAN
Duncan will attack the provincial government on the hasty introduction of important bills late in the Legislative session, and Shawinigan Lake will ask Vancouver Island chambers to back their plan to legalize sweepstakes and raffles for support of hospitals and other charitable purposes.

The convention will open tomorrow and continue through Thursday. Other Victoria delegates who will attend are Austin Curtis, G. C. Parrott and A. J. Cowie.

Arkansas is the Algonquin name of the Quapaw Indians.

First Strawberries Go East

Mike Wilson, left, and George Hall load 853 crates of local strawberries for eastern housewives. This is first of 25 more carloads to go. Each is worth $5,000 and takes four tons of ice to pack. Local drought conditions have caused prices to remain high, from 25 to 30 cents a basket, where they will stay unless rain comes in near future.

Princess Of Nanaimo Readied For New Run

Ss. Princess of Nanaimo, newly-arrived C.P.R. luxury ship to go on the Vancouver-Nanaimo run, will leave Esquimalt, Graving Dock at 8 Thursday morning, and will have her topside painting done at the C.P.R. wharf in the Inner Harbor. She has three extra coats of paint below the waterline.

The ship was sent to drydock immediately on her arrival Monday from the builder's yard in Govan, Scotland.

"The condition of her hull is very good," E. W. Izard, general manager of Yarrows Ltd., which is doing the bottom painting, said. "It is always good practice, however, to check on a new ship after a long run."

According to Capt. O. J. Williams, manager of B.C. Coast Steamship Service, the twin-screw vessel is ready for service on the Nanaimo-Vancouver run June 27 except for the outside painting.

Although the ship will call Victoria her home port, she will berth every night in Vancouver. She and the Princess Elaine will be regulars on the Nanaimo-Vancouver run, with others to be called whenever traffic warrants.

Capt. Williams said the service will permit the carrying of 800 cars daily between Nanaimo and Vancouver.

Wage Boost For I.B.E.W. Members

Construction electricians of Victoria and Vancouver locals of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (I.B.E.W.) will receive higher pay cheques this month as the result of new work contracts just negotiated.

Victoria electrical workers will receive a five-cent hourly pay boost, retroactive to June 1, bringing their pay to $2 an hour with a review of the wage scale promised by contractors at September 1.

Vancouver electricians and workers employed on Vancouver Island, north of Cowichan River, will be paid $2 an hour from June 1 and will receive an extra 15 cents starting October 1.

Cheese Lands In Right Place With New Gadget

By PENNY SAVER

To slice cheese is one thing, but to slice cheese so that it doesn't crumble and end up all on the knife, floor, and everywhere but on the plate is another thing.

But you can bring on the cheese anytime now Mom, your ever-lovin' Penny has found a gadget that will abolish the cheese cuttin' rampages.

This nerve calmer is a plastic box capable of holding standard two-pound hunk of cheese, or less, keeping it fresh as a daisy, and when the time comes to serve a slice or two you calmly slide along the attached slider to the desired amount and presto, you have a clean cut slice of cheese and less grey hairs. Will cost you only $2.75.

Sometimes these trips to the beach are an all-day affair and before you know it you have numerous little things to take with you. Multi-color or striped beach bags with an outside pocket, which I found this morning, are just ideal for keeping everything together, especially if you have to travel some ways to the beach. These are selling at $2.39 and $2.69.

Clean cuffs and an immaculate appearance can be yours for only 49 cents if you get the clear plastic cuff protectors that clip around your wrists.

If you are looking for something that is really bright and different for your vases or novelty containers, imported English sea fern, actually plain ordinary seaweed—artificially dyed, may be what you are looking for. It sells for 39 cents a sprig and with the right room temperature should last for two years.

Sitting on the first line of a staff of music are two little flower plants that seem to be notes themselves. Their ray colors would be perfect for your kitchen. They cost 99 cents.

I never would have believed it if I hadn't seen it with my own eyes. The amazing little numbers I am referring to are the booster hats made from peanut straw and imported from California. They are basically fashioned like a jockey hat with a slightly larger brim and are trimmed with everything from soup to nuts. Toys, tables, and tassels, all find a perch. You can own one for $4.49 or $5.95.

Claims Bride In The East

Arthur Charles Burgess, formerly of Victoria, now living in St. Jean, Que., was wed early this month to Dorothy Jean Lundie, St. Thomas, Ont.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Lundie, St. Thomas, Ont., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. "Tommy" Burgess, Government Street, Victoria.

Rev. N. F. Swackhammer united the young couple in Centre Street Baptist Church, St. Thomas, Ont.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white tulle gown fashioned on princess lines with French lace yoke, bertha collar, and lily point sleeves. Her floor-length veil was caught in a Juliet cap and her bouquet was white carnations and sweet peas.

Mrs. E. House, matron of honor, wore a pink sheer gown, and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

AC. 2 Andrew Burgess was best man for his brother, Robert Lundie, brother of the bride, and Jack Holdsworth were ushers.

Rev. Swackhammer proposed the toast to the bride at reception held in church parlors.

Following their honeymoon in Montreal the newlyweds will live in St. Jean, Quebec.

MARY HAWORTH

Lonely Atheist Wonders How To Find Belief In Personal God

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Being a professed atheist has set me apart from many fine people whose beliefs do not coincide with mine. Lately I have felt that I would kill myself, so as to end all my frustrations and memories of incidents that have obstructed my life—which has been full of sorrow and discontent.

Only last month I was prepared to marry John, who had proposed to me after six months' courtship. But when the time came to discuss our beliefs, he backed out, saying that he would prefer to marry someone who had religious faith. So now I am alone again, without either happiness or a life companion.

Before I do anything tragic I would like to have your advice, which I greatly respect. Do you think anyone can get me to believe in a personal God, who rewards the good and punishes the bad? Please answer soon, so that I may find some peace of mind, and, if possible, peace of soul. Do you know of any fine mental health institute that might help me?

THROTTLED ANGER
FUELS DEATH WISH

Though quarrelling isn't recommended as a solution of problems, it sometimes serves as a safety valve in emotional crises—temporarily easing dangerous pressures within the personality. And in your recent wretched state, when you are denied even the makeshift consolation of wrangling with a sparring partner—which, after all, is a negative form of intimacy—you tend, unconsciously, to make yourself the scapegoat of your pent-up rage at personal vicissitudes. That's why the thought of self-destruction enters in. You feel tired, discouraged, hopeless, "mad enough to kill," as the saying goes. And having no special adversary, your black mood boomerangs and threatens you.—M.H.

TODAY'S RECIPE

SHRIMP CUCUMBER SALAD

Two cups cooked peeled shrimp, 1 cup diced cucumber, ½ cup diced celery, ½ cup mayonnaise, 1 tsp. grated onion, 1 tsp. lemon juice.

Combine shrimp, cucumbers and celery. Add onion and lemon juice to mayonnaise. Toss with shrimp mixture. Serve on lettuce, garnished with crisp radishes.

Here's a molded salad with cottage cheese to make it substantial. Serve with quick cooking fish fillets and creamed fresh peas and new potatoes. Blueberry pie would be the last word for dessert. Serves four.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Get Your Sun In Morning Or Evening—Not Middy

Every summer, and afterward,

I am deluged with letters asking how to avoid freckling and how to get rid of them. The only way to avoid them is to stay out of the bright sunlight or give your face complete protection with a cream which screens out the sun's rays. There are some mild bleaching creams which fade the freckles. Lemon juice and buttermilk are also helpful. In the last analysis you have to give the freckles time to dim.

There is a pigment which lies under the skin. It differs in individuals. This pigment is what makes the difference between brunets and blonds, and accounts for freckles and suntan. Exposure to the sun does many things to you. It relaxes you and speeds up the glandular system. This pigment is formed in the lower cells of the skin and migrates to the outer portions to cause tan or freckles.

Here are a few more facts to remember about suntanning. Women are more susceptible to it during their menstrual period. From the third month of pregnancy on the same thing is true. Remember that the reddening of your skin reaches its maximum 12 hours after exposure. That little pinkness will be redder hours later on.

The ultra-violet potency of the sun varies with the seasons. It begins to increase around the middle of April and is highest about the middle of June. From then on it decreases slowly. Avoid midday sun. You are much more likely to suffer from sunburn than if you take your tanning in the early morning or late afternoon. This is to be remembered for the skin's sake as well as your health's.

If you are going camping this year and would like to have my leaflet No. 59, "Tricks in Camping," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Wedding Scene At Colwood

Rev. H. J. Jones officiated at the wedding of Lois Maureen Poirier and Norris George Mills, in St. John's Church, Colwood.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Poirier, Sooke, and the groom is the son of Mrs. I. Mills, Happy Valley Road, and late George Mills.

James Flatman played organ music.

The dark-haired bride entered the church on the arm of her father, wearing a white satin gown featuring a stiffened bodice covered with row upon row of lace. Lace bodice was outlined with folds of satin and the illusion veil was attached to a pleated net halo with pearl trim. A bouquet of mauve stocks centred with an orchid completed the picture.

Miss Denise Cuche, the bride's only attendant, wore a gown of white Swiss eyelet over taffeta and carried a bouquet of mauve stocks.

Harold Mills was best man for his brother, Charles Poirier, brother of the bride, and Roy Mills, cousin of the groom, were ushers.

Reception was held at Chez Marcel, Colwood, where a three-tier wedding cake centred the bride's table. A lace cloth, made by the bride's maternal grandmother, covered the table which was decorated with white candles and silver candelabra.

H. Farrott, former teacher of the young couple, proposed the toast. For the honeymoon, the bride chose a tailored suit of blue and white stripe with white accessories, complemented with an orchid.

To Talk For Mill Bay Solarium

Mrs. Alexandra (Lattie) McCullough, recently appointed public relations officer for Queen Alexandra Solarium for Crippled Children. Mrs. McCullough has much experience in solarium work, having been secretary for the hospital from 1943 to 1946, then a director of the board until May this year when she resigned to take her present position. She is also a past president of the Solarium Junior League. Her future work will be to stimulate good public relations and to publicize the work of the Solarium not only on Vancouver Island but in other parts of the province.

Happy Wedding Trio

Stepping through the doorway of Metropolitan United Church are recent newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. George Kerr, who were united in marriage by Dr. A. E. Whitehouse. With them is their little flower girl Gayle Wilson. The bridal pair have returned to the city to make their home following a honeymoon in Mexico. (Photo by Joncas.)

Mr. and Mrs. Reid To Make Their Home On East Coast

Following their marriage Saturday evening in St. Alban's Church, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Donald Reid left for a honeymoon in Vancouver from where they will cross the continent to make their home in Halifax.

Rev. W. E. Greenhalgh officiated. The bride is the former Colleen Charron Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Morris, Blackwood Street, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Reid, Trenton, Ont.

Tall baskets of flowers decorated the chancel steps in the church and guest pews were marked with bouquets of spring flowers and white ribbon bows. Walter Hamilton played the organ music and Louise Leask sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Mr. Morris gave his daughter in marriage. The wedding gown of velvety organza imprinted with lily of the valley was fashioned with net yoke trimmed with pearls, lily point sleeves and hoop skirt revealing lace insets. Complementing her gown was a heart-shaped pendant, gift of the groom. Her finger-tip length veil was caught in a coronet of lace and orange blossoms. Red roses and white feathers stocks formed her cascade bouquet. Matron of honor, Mrs. Ken Kidd, wore a mauve taffeta gown and carried a bouquet of peach gladioli and mauve stocks. Bridesmaids, Miss Juanita Morris, sister of the bride, and Miss Margaret Coverdale, were gowned alike in blue and pink net over taffeta. The groom chose Ken Kidd as best man, and Edward Townsend and Robert Townsend, both of Vancouver, were ushers. At the reception held in St. Alban's Hall, Ryan Street, Jack Wright read a telegram from the bride's grandmother in England, and also congratulations from friends in Banff. Bride's table was centred with heart-shaped wedding cake. The white crocheted table cloth was arranged with white candles in silver holders, and carnations in silver vases. For her going-away ensemble the bride wore a delicate pink silk crepe dress, navy accessories, topped with a white shortie coat. Her corsage bouquet was sweetheart roses.

Miss Shirley Sagers Wins 1951-52 Bay Wigley Award

In her report as chairman of the Bay Wigley scholarship, at annual meeting of Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club yesterday evening, Miss Mabel Cameron announced the 1951-52 winner as Miss Shirley Sagers, 2570 Shakespeare Street. Miss Sagers, 16-year-old Victoria High School student will receive $100 to assist her in taking further training for a business or professional career.

Miss Elizabeth Forbes was re-elected president by acclamation and was presented with a corsage bouquet of pink roses on behalf of her officers, by Mrs. Bessie Smith, also returned by acclamation as first vice-president.

Other officers, named by acclamation, were Mrs. Marguerite Laughlin, second vice-president; Miss Verna Beck, corresponding secretary; Miss Frances Love, recording secretary, and Mrs. Ruby Masters, treasurer. Elected directors for the coming year were Miss Mary Cliff, Miss Marjorie Hurst, Miss Ethel Kitts, Miss Nona Rich and Mrs. Mary Thompson.

Mrs. Lily Nicholls was nominated chairman, assisted by Mrs. Kate Farquharson and Mrs. Mabel Curry. Scrutineers were Miss Jane Hall and Miss Beck. Reports given by officers and chairmen showed a successful year. Membership, as given by Miss Beck, is 102 active members, four associate members and one honorary member. Receipts for the year, given by Mrs. Masters, were $2,359.52, and disbursements, $2,064.64. Announcement was made of the club's fifth annual musicale in which young musical talent of Victoria is presented, at Oak Bay Beach Hotel, on June 20. Mrs. Lillian Smith is convener. Proceeds are for the scholarship fund. The club picnic will be held at Thetis Lake on June 25.

Five Point Plan Of White Cane Club Presented At Local Council Meeting

In view of renewed interest of the public in the problem of the Dominion Government to establish a contributory system of financing pensions, Mrs. Gordon Cameron presented the following resolution in her report to the Local Council of Women at their final meeting of the season yesterday.

"That the Victoria White Cane Club takes this opportunity to appeal to the council of women for delegates to consider the pension problems of Canada's blind residents with the view of again bringing to the attention of the proper authorities the irregularities and shortcomings of the present regulations governing the payment of pensions to blind people and our need for a new blind pensions act."

Five-point plan by the Canadian Council of the Blind with White Cane Clubs across Canada includes blind pensions act, elimination of means test, raising of permissible earnings, blindness allowance to those totally blind or those with 3 per cent vision or less and reduction of resident requirement from 20 to five years.

Following the report by the convener of laws, Mrs. Elizabeth Watling, president of Victoria White Cane Club spoke briefly, outlining work of the club. "Our tourist trade caters to 500,000 visitors to Victoria each year," said Mrs. W. Peden in her report as convener of natural resources. Mrs. Peden told of growth in population and industry on this island and in this province. She urged British Columbia to travel throughout their own province to gain knowledge of its resources. Other reports were presented by Dr. Henrietta Anderson, moral standards, and Mrs. A. J. Tullis, child and family welfare. Mrs. A. M. Perry presided during the meeting.

BRIDGE LESSON

by Oswald Jacoby

"Hard luck," said South. Every body nodded sympathetically, so I kept quiet. I've discovered that nobody thanks me for pointing out his errors.

West opened the ten of clubs, and South won with the ace. He drew two rounds of trumps and then overtook the queen of clubs with the dummy's king in order to discard a diamond on the jack of clubs.

Declarer then entered his hand with the ace of diamonds to lead a heart towards dummy. When West played low, declarer hopefully finessed dummy's ten.

East quickly took the jack of hearts, cashed the king of hearts, and then began on the diamonds. South could ruff the third round of diamonds but still had to lose a third heart trick. Hence he sighed about his luck as he entered 100 points on the enemy's side of the score pad.

Have you spotted South's error? You should be able to prove that hard luck was not responsible for South's defeat.

Declarer was on the right track in winning the first trick, drawing trumps, and running the clubs to discard a diamond. He was still all right when he led to the ace of diamonds. But he plunged off the deep end when he then led a heart.

Correct play is to lead a second diamond at once. There is time later on to lead the hearts.

If diamonds are led again, East must win and continue the suit. South ruffs the third diamond and then is the time for the heart lead.

Declarer neither gains nor loses if the finesse of the heart ten succeeds. If that finesse loses to the jack, however, South has an extra chance that East may have ace-jack or king-jack alone.

This actually is the case. East can take two heart tricks but must then return a diamond or a club. In either case dummy ruffs while South discards his last losing heart.

To Hear Labor On Living Cost Basis

OTTAWA (CP)—Trade Minister Howe agreed Monday to suggest that representatives of labor and agriculture be given a chance to make representations on any new basis for the official cost-of-living index.

He told Stanley Knowles (C.C.F. Winnipeg North Centre) and Robert Fair (S.C. Battle River) he would be glad to make that suggestion to the bureau of statistics, studying the possibility of revising the method of computing the index.

HOLLYWOOD REVIEW

MacArthur Phrase Swiftly Transformed Into Picture

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—No time is being wasted in getting a film titled "Old Soldiers Never Die" into movie theatres.

I learned this from Sam Fuller, probably the most cyclonic film maker in Hollywood. He is cutting through studio red tape to whip out a picture based on the Gen. MacArthur phrase.

"I am doing this picture completely backwards," he reported. "Usually you start with an original story, then you get a script and rewrite it several times, then you have meetings about costs, sets, etc. I am by-passing all of that."

"By the time I have the script written, the set will be all ready to work on. I have the model now, and I'm writing the script to fit the set."

"The story concerns a single action in the Korean war. MacArthur will be in the picture. The title will be brought out by showing an old sergeant and comparing him with the kids of today's army."

"The action concerns a fight for a wintry mountain pass. I want to point out how each side uses its own wits in the attempt to take the pass."

The picture will be the swift, least expensive film made by 20th Century-Fox in many years. The picture was made in 12 days—two days over schedule due to an appendectomy in the cast—at a cost of $104,000. It has already brought in $800,000 and the total take will probably reach $1,000,000.

Sioux Helped British Raid

TOKYO (AP)—The leader of a British marine hit-run raid behind Communist lines on the Korean west coast May 20 said today the foray "gained valuable information." The Canadian destroyer Sioux formed part of the escort in the raid.

The information was withheld for military reasons. Capt. H. E. Kelsey-Burge, who led the landing party, said the raid was entirely successful. We achieved our object and also gained valuable information."

The marines landed on the Chinnampo Peninsula after a steady bombardment by the cruisers Ceylon and Kenya. They scoured the area several hours and returned to their ship without casualties.

Film Figures Charged In 'Friendly Game'

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Vice-squad officers disclosed today they had broken up a friendly poker game and cited five for violating county gambling laws. Those cited: Actor Charles Coburn, producers Howard Benedict and Paul Malvern and writers Morris Ryskin and Paul Yawitz.

ALY ON RAMPAGE

Threatens Photographers

PARIS (UP)—Prince Aly Khan flew into a rage and threatened photographers early today for taking pictures of his gay evening with actress Joan Fontaine at the most sumptuous party of the season.

He strode from a restaurant at 4 a.m. and shouted "at" photographers who had been snapping pictures of him and Joan through an open window.

"Do I have to bump your heads together to make you lay off? This is serious business."

Joan has been his favorite companion since Rita Hayworth left for the U.S. to get a divorce.

QUALITY TIRE

$23.20

(size 6.00-16, 4-ply)
LESS TRADE-IN ALLOWANCE
on present tires, given by most
Goodyear dealers

Here is a tire in the low-price field that features Goodyear quality construction throughout!

It's the new, improved Marathon... now available in 2 tread designs! Now you may choose from the quiet, smooth-running Rib tread or the famous All-Weather traction tread! And the Marathon is priced at only $23.20, less a liberal trade-in allowance given by most Dealers.

New Improved Marathon gives you these outstanding economy features:

- 1 MILEAGE: Rugged new Marathon has even more rubber built into both tread designs... an even thicker, wider tread than the big-mileage Marathon it replaces.
- 2 SAFETY: The new cord body on the Marathon is built from Goodyear Superwrist cord for exceptional blowout resistance. This new Goodyear is constructed with all the care and attention you'd expect to find only in tires costing dollars more!
- 3 GUARANTEE: The new Marathon, a full-size, quality tire carries the Goodyear written guarantee... good for the life of the tire!
